PREFACE

It is hardly necessary to state that as in previous volumes every possible effort has been made to secure absolute accuracy, as to the genealogical tables contained in Volume VI and the historical facts narrated therein.

The family records in almost every instance have been compiled from data in the possession of descendants of the founders of the families and from well authenticated public records. Most all of the pedigrees have been proved by American genealogists of the highest standing.

To those whom I am indebted for access to their priceless records, and for the necessary assistance and encouragement, which has enabled me to edit this volume, I here extend my appreciation and thanks, more particularly to John Bailey Nicklin, Jr., Esq., of Chattanooga, Tennessee; Mr. Gilmer Speed Adams of Louisville, Kentucky; Mr. Samuel Putnam Avery of Hartford, Connecticut; the late Hon. Frank Baker of Chicago, Illinois; John Caldwell Calhoun, Esq., New York City; Charles W. Johnson, Esq., St. Paul, Minnesota; Charles Kingsbury Miller, Esq., Chicago, Illinois; William Lincoln Palmer, Esq., Boston, Massachusetts; Major Richard Stockton, Jr., United States Army; Hon. Charles Seymour Whitman, Governor of New York; and John Barber White, Esq., Kansas City, Missouri.

In the back of the volume will be found an index to the families published in the previous five volumes.

George Norbury Mackenzie.

CAPTAIN JAMES SPEED of ———————; b. 4th March, 1739, Mecklenberg County, Virginia; d. 3d September, 1811. He was a Burgess from Charlotte County, Virginia, 1772–1775. (Stanard's "Colony Virginia Register"). He served in the Revolutionary War, first as Lieutenant and then as Captain and was wounded at the battle of Guilford Court House, North Carolina, 15th March, 1718, while leading his command in battle. One of his family of six brothers who served in the Revolutionary War was killed in this battle. For his military services before and during the Revolutionary War he received large grants of land. He moved to Kentucky with his family in the fall of 1782 from Charlotte Court House, Caroline County, Virginia, over the "Wilderness Road," which led through the mountains of Virginia to Cumberland Gap and thence to Danville, Kentucky, which was then in Lincoln County. He was a member of the early Kentucky Conventions of 1783–1785, 1787. He was a member of the Political Club, a society of the leading men in Kentucky, which met from 1786 to 1790 at Danville, then the capital of Kentucky. He died near Danville 3d September, 1811; m. 10th December, 1767, in Charlotte County, Virginia, Mary SPENCER.

JUDGE JOHN SPEED, b. 17th May, 1772; d. 30th March, 1840. Served in War against Indians 1791; was early in life a merchant and salt manufacturer at the licks near Shepherdsville, Kentucky; was Judge of Quarter Sessions Court, Jefferson County, Kentucky. Although a slaveholder, was an Emancipationist. He was admired and respected by all who knew him, including Rev. James Freeman CLARK, who eulogizes him in his "Recollections." Judge John SPEED owned a handsome estate of the celebrated "Beargrass" land near Louisville, upon which he built a large house of the old Colonial style of architecture which he called "Farmington" and where was dispensed lavish hospitality; m. (firstly) Abby LEMASTER, who d. 1st July, 1807; m. (secondly) 15th November, 1808, in Mercer County, Kentucky, Lucy Gilmer FRY, b. in Albemarle County, Virginia, 23d March, 1788, d. 27th January, 1874, dau. of Joshua and Peachy (WALKER) FRY. Joshua FRY, b. circa 1760, was a soldier in the War of the Revolution at 14, and was at Cornwallis' surrender. He received the best classical education and had a decided taste for scholarly pursuits. He inherited a large estate and in 1798 left Virginia for Kentucky with his family and settled at Danville and became the owner of very large tracts of fine land. His tastes led him to teaching and he became the most noted educator in Kentucky. Being a man of large means, he would never receive compensation for teaching and gave instruction to hundreds of pupils gratuitously. In the published biographical sketches of many of the most prominent Kentuckians, the fact of being educated by Joshua FRY is especially mentioned. His father was Col. John FRY who commanded the Virginia troops in the early colonial wars, and was a Member of the House of Burgesses 1761 to 1764. His mother was Sarah ADAMS, dau. of Ebenezer ADAMS, of New Kent County, Virginia. The father of Col. John FRY (See Adams line, p. 8) was Col. Joshua FRY. Col. Joshua FRY was educated at Oxford, England, emigrated to Virginia previous to 1710, during which year he was vestryman Essex Parish, Virginia, Magistrate Essex County, Virginia, 1710–1720; here he m. Mrs. Mary Micou Hill, of Hugenot descent; Master of Grammar School William and Mary College, 1729; Professor of Natural Philosophy and Mathematics at William and Mary College, 1732 to 1737; Presiding Justice, Surveyor and County Lieutenant for Albemarle County, Virginia, at its formation, February 28th, 1745. Together with his intimate friend Peter JEFFERSON (father of Thomas JEFFERSON) he was Commissioner in 1745–1749 of the Crown in marking boundary lines between Virginia and North Carolina. Joint author of FRY and JEFFERSON's map of Virginia in 1749; Commissioner for Crown at Treaty of Logstown (near Pittsburg) with six Nation Indians in 1752; Member of House of Burgesses, 1745–1754, and Council; commissioned 25th February, 1754, by Governor DINWIDDIE as Colonel and Commander-in-Chief of the Virginia forces in French and Indian War, his compensation being 15 shillings ($3.75) per day and £100 per year for his table. George WASHINGTON was the Lieutenant Colonel, compensation as such per day 12s. 6d. ($3.12½). While in command at Fort Cumberland, Virginia, on the Potomac River, he d. 31st May, 1754, and was buried near there. George WASHINGTON, who, by reason of Colonel FRY's death became Commander in Chief, and the Army attended the funeral, and on a large oak tree which served as a tomb and monument to his memory, George WASHINGTON cut the following inscription:

> "Under this oak lies the body of > THE GOOD, THE JUST AND THE NOBLE FRY"
> ("Memoir of Col. Joshua Fry,"—Rev. P. Slaughter.)

PEACHY WALKER, b. 6h February, 1767; m. Joshua FRY. Was a dau. of Dr. Thomas WALKER, of Castle Hill, by his first wife, Mildred THORNTON, widow of Nicholas MERIWETHER. Dr. Walker's ancestors came from Staffordshire, England. Capt. Thomas WALKER was Burgess from Gloucester County, Virginia, 1662; in 1666 he is called Maj. Thomas WALKER, in the list of Burgesses. Titles were strictly applied because they meant something in those days. His grandson Thomas WALKER, lived in King and Queen, and m. there in 1707. He was the father of Dr. Thomas WALKER of Castle Hill, Albemarle County, who was b. 25th January, 1714, and d. 9th November, 1794; he is believed to be the first white man who explored Kentucky. He was Commissary-General of Virginia troops in Braddock's war; Member of House of Burgesses, of the Virginia Convention of 1775; Commissioner to treat with the Indians after their defeat by Andrew LEWIS, Commissioner to run boundary line between Virginia and North Carolina, known as WALKER's line, and he was the guardian of Thomas JEFFERSON. He m. (firstly) 1741, the widow of Nicholas MERIWETHER, whose maiden name was Mildred THORNTON.

Avery-Park (maternal)

Richard Park of London, England; b. 1602 (?); d. 1665, in Newton, Massachusetts. His will was dated 12th July, 1665; was a proprietor in Cambridge, Massachusetts, in 1636, and of Cambridge Farms (Lexington), 1642; his house was near the commons in Cambridge. The very ancient dwelling house which was pulled down about 1800 was supposed to have been built by him. Previous to 1652, he owned a large tract of land in the northwest part of the village of Cambridge. It contained 600 acres which he probably bought of Pastor Shepard or his heirs. In 1657 he was one of a committee, with Edward Jackson, John Jackson, and Samuel Hyde, to lay out and settle highways in the village. During the contest between the village and Cambridge to be set off, he sent a petition to the Court in 1661 praying to retain his connection with the Cambridge Church; m. (firstly) in England and came over in the ship Defense, July, 1635, and settled in Cambridge, Massachusetts, where he purchased a large tract of land on the Charles River, a portion of which is now occupied by the Harvard College; m. (secondly) Sarah (Collier) Brewster, dau. of William and Jane Collier and widow of Love Brewster of Duxbury, his widow Sarah d. after 1678 at Duxbury, Massachusetts.

Reverend Joseph Park, B.A., M.A., of Westerly, Rhode Island; b. in Newton, Massachusetts, 12th March, 1704; d. 1st March, 1777, in the forty-fifth year of his ministry. Graduated from Harvard College, 1720, with the degree of B.A., subsequently receiving the degree of M.A. in 1724. He studied for the Ministry and was ordained 1730, moved to Westerly, Rhode Island, 1733, where he distinguished himself as a Minister of the Gospel. He was a self sacrificing, patriotic and public spirited man. Ordained 1732. Went to Westerly, Rhode Island, 1733. He organized a Sunday School in connection with his church at Westerly, 1752, nearly thirty years before the experiment of Robert Reikes in England. Having care for a sick woman of smallpox who had been driven away by the town authorities, he was tried for contempt, whereupon he preached a sermon in vindication of his course, which with a narrative of the transaction was published. "April 11th, 1756, Appointed Wednesday 14th as a day of fasting and prayer, to humble ourselves before God, to implore His gracious presence with, and blessings to our young brethren Joseph Park, Jr., Benjamin Park, and Thomas Park and William Garrit, all who offered their desire in writing to this society, and we believe that God of His Infinite Mercy will hear and answer, and also that God would bless our Army in general, who are going forth against our enemies. The young men here mentioned were in the expedition that went forth for the reduction of Crown Point. It will be noticed that three of them were sons of Rev. Joseph Park, who was always a man of public spirit." Proceedings of the General Assembly held for the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations at South Kingstown the 14th day of February, 1758. "Whereas the Rev. Joseph Park of Charlestown in the County of Kings, presented this Assembly with a memorial setting forth that he hath ever been ready to contribute all of the assistance in his power to stop his Majesty's enemies from their injurious encroachments on his dominion and just rights in America and to defend the Country. That in the year of 1756 he consented to the voluntary service of three of his sons who served in the expedition formed for the reduction of Crown Point; that when they were discharged from the service upon their return homeward, they put their clothing and other furniture to the value of £100 currency, in their chest which was unfortunately lost in the sea. That this summer when the enemy attacked Fort William Henry, they volunteered in the stead of officers who declined, that they did this without any consideration purely to serve their country, that he the memorialist was thereby put to considerable charge, wherefore he prays for such allowance as should be thought proper. On consideration whereof this Assembly do vote and resolve that the sum of £100 be paid said Joseph PARK out of the General Treasury, for the use of his aforesaid, but that nothing be allowed them as officers." After his graduation at Harvard College, Cambridge, he was appointed missionary to the Indians and such English as would attend, in Westerly, Rhode Island. He entered his new field of labor in 1733, occupying a meeting-house on a lot of land given by George NINEGRET, chief sachem of the Indians. The lot comprised twenty acres and was situated near the post-road in the eastern part of the present town. His congregation came from Westerly, Charlestown and Narragansett. His work was slow and difficult until 1740, when the great revival arose in New England. In 1751 he removed and settled at Mattatuck, near Southfield, Long Island, where he labored until 1756, when he returned to Westerly, and was formally settled again, 23d May, 1759. This church established the first Sabbath-school and Mr. PARK was its first and only pastor;" he m. 1732, Abigail GREENE, b. 1703, d. 19th October, 1772.

2[1]. Edward James Barnes PALMER, b. 3d October, 1886; d. 3d April, 1913. He was educated in the common schools of Lanesboro, Massachusetts, also attended Prof. A. J. CLOUGH's private school in Pittsfield, Massachusetts, and the Pittsfield High School, where he was graduated in 1907. He also took a brief course in the Berkshire Business College. He had been early drawn to physics and chemistry, in which he specialized with marked success. His original intention was to enter the General Electric Works in Pittsfield, but he was advised to secure a more comprehensive education in physics and chemistry. His ambition was that of leadership in his chosen profession. As a special student in the Class of 1911, he entered Bowdoin College, giving special attention to physics and chemistry. He also attended the sessions of the Harvard Summer School. These studies led to an enlarged vision and he determined to enter on a complete college course, and in 1909 was admitted to the Sophomore Class at Harvard, where he remained for three years, giving particular attention to chemistry, but by no means neglecting collateral studies. He was awarded one of the Matthews' Scholarships in 1910 and also in 1911. He received the degree of Bachelor of Science from Harvard on Commencement Day, 1912. In the autumn he was invited to a position as Assistant Professor of Chemistry at Allegheny College, Meadville, Pennsylvania, where he rapidly won friends and was spoken of as a "Master Chemist;" was a member of his College Society Delta Upsilon.

Lineage

The earliest mention of the name is to be found in an old tradition preserved in the family records. To the effect that King William the Lion whilst hunting in one of the southwest counties became separated from his companions and being alarmed by the sudden approach of a wild boar called for assistance, when a gentleman of the name of BAIRD came up and slew the animal. For this service the king conferred upon him large grants of land and gave him for a Coat of Arms: Gules a Boar passant or. And the Motto: Dominus fecit, with Crest: A Boar's head erased. Which means a red shield with a gilt Boar as if passing upon it. There is a family tradition that the father of Lieut. John BAIRD held a Commission in the British Army and took part in an expedition against Canada, probably returning later to Scotland, where his son was born.

LIEUTENANT JOHN BAIRD probably came Ayr, Scotland, the exact date, however, of his arrival in America is not known; he was b. circa 1730, in Scotland; d. circa 1760. Entered military service of the Colony of Pennsylvania. Early in 1758 a regiment of three battalions, each of sixteen companies, was raised by the Colony to take part in the expedition of that year under General FORBES against Fort Duquesne; the Hon. William DENNY, Lieutenant-Governor of the Colony was the Colonel in Chief. In the second battalion, in Captain WORK's Company, John BAIRD was commissioned an Ensign, 13th March, 1758. This battalion joined the Army of General FORBES at Carlisle and a portion of it was present at Grant's defeat in September, 1758. Ensign BAIRD, took part in that engagement. After the successful termination of the expedition his company remained on the frontier and 18th April, 1759, he was promoted to Lieutenancy in the same Company. In 1760 he was reported as having "died in service;" m. circa, 1755, Catherine M'CLEAN, b. 19th July, 1733, probably in Chester County, Pennsylvania, d. 28th November, 1802; she was descended from a Scotch Irish Presbyterian family that had long been located in the North of Ireland, one of her ancestors having taken part in the defense of Londonderry in 1688.

THOMAS BAKER of East Hampton, Long Island, New York; b. 26th July, 1654; d. 8th September, 1735; m. (firstly) 24th April, 1686, Ann TOPPING, of Southampton, dau. of Thomas TOPPING of Southampton, the son of Capt. Thomas TOPPING, the first of the name in that town. Capt. Thomas TOPPING held many offices of trust and importance in New York and Connecticut. In New York he was a Member of the Governor's Council, Captain of the Southampton Train Band, Constable, Deputy to the Hempstead Assembly of 1665, Commissioner in Admiralty and Deputy Commissioner of Indian Affairs of the Province. In Connecticut he was a Representative from Wethersfield to the General Court in 1639; Patentee in the Connecticut Charter, Assistant, Member of the Council of War and Captain of New Haven County Troop. He was an Englishman, and was at Wethersfield in 1636. His name appears with Thomas BAKER's on the roll of the "free planters" of Milford in November, 1639. Later he was at Hempstead, and in 1650 was at Southampton; 18th October of that year he was appointed "Captain of the banded soldiers" of that town. Southampton was then under the jurisdiction of Connecticut, and up to 1662 nominated three men in each year from whom the General Court of Connecticut chose two Magistrates or Assistants who were members of the upper house or the General Court of the Colony. Captain TOPPING was elected Assistant each year from 1651 to 1662. In 1662, Charles II granted to Governor WINTHROP and his associates, under the Great Seal of England, the Charter of Connecticut which remained the fundamental law of the Colony and State until 1817. Edmund ANDROSS, Governor General of New England, in 1686, demanded of the General Court the production and surrender of their charter. It was produced, but during the discussion between the officers of the Colony and the Governor General, the lights were extinguished and the charter seized and hid in a hollow oak. Captain TOPPING was one of the patentees in that charter and was therein named one of the Assistants to the Governor. In 1663, after the charter, he was again chosen an Assistant by the General Court of Connecticut. After the conquest of New Netherlands by the English in 1664, Long Island became a part of the Province of New York. Captain TOPPING was a Deputy from Southampton to the Hempstead Assembly 28th February, 1665, in which Thomas BAKER was a Deputy from Easthampton. In 1665 he was appointed by Governor NICOLL Commissioner of Admiralty of the Province of New York. The next year the Governor appointed him Constable, then, as has been said, an office of much importance; later he was appointed Deputy Commissioner of Indian Affairs of the Province. About 1671 he returned to Milford, and 16th May, 1673, was by the General Court of Connecticut confirmed Captain of the New Haven County Troop. In November of the same year, when war with the Dutch was threatened, he was appointed a member of the Council of War. He went from Milford to Branford about 1671, and was chosen Magistrate or Assistant by the General Court of Connecticut each year from 1678 to 1684. Captain TOPPING's death at Branford in December, 1687, was thus recorded in the town records: "In this town died Thomas TOPPING, one of the Colony to whom King Charles granted his letters patent of the Colony of Connecticut." THOMAS BAKER m. (secondly) 11th July 1711, Elizabeth OSBORN, b. circa 1670, d. 18th July, 1753, dau. of Joseph OSBORN.

SAMUEL BAKER of Easthampton, Long Island, and Branford, Connecticut; bapt. 5th April, 1702, at Easthampton; d. 22d August, 1767, at Branford, to which town he removed with his family in 1728. He was several times chosen selectman of Branford and in 1765 was a Deputy to the General Court of Connecticut; m. (firstly) 18th October, 1721, Mercy SCHELLINGER, b. 4th November, 1699, at Easthampton, d. 25th August, 1749, at Branford, dau. of Jacob and Hannah SCHELLINGER and gd. dau. of Jacobus and Cornelia (MELYN) SCHELLINGER, who came to New Amsterdam, 1652, and settled at Easthampton before 2d October, 1667. Cornelia MELYN, b. 1627, was the dau. of Cornelis MELYN, Patroon of Staten Island, President of the Council of "Eight Men" in Nieuw Netherland, 1643; a native of Antwerp, who came to New Amsterdam in 1639; he returned to Holland and procured from the Amsterdam Chamber of the Dutch West India Company authority to settle a colony on Staten Island. He returned next year to settle his colony and brought with him his family and servants. His family consisted of his wife and three children, the eldest of whom was his daughter Cornelia; 29th June, 1642, Director General KIEFT granted to him a "ground brief" or patent, covering all of Staten Island excepting DE VRIES' reserved "bouwerij" and investing him with all the powers, jurisdictions, privileges and pre-eminence of a patroon. He established a number of settlers on the island and built a house there in which he resided with his family. Trouble with the Indians began as early as 1640. DE VRIES bouwery was attacked and the measures taken by KIEFT only served to further enrage the Indians against KIEFT and the Dutch. These troubles led to the Indian war of 1643, which completely frustrated MELYN'S design to establish a settlement on the island. He held KIEFT responsible for the war, and became the leader of the party opposed to KIEFT'S government. He was compelled by the war to abandon his home on Staten Island and retire to Manhattans, or New Amsterdam. He received in 1643 a grant of a double lot in Manhattan, the patent for which was issued 28th April, 1644. In the same year he was made President of the Council of "Eight Men" in Nieuw Netherland. The shore of East River was then about the line of the present Pearl Street, and the present Stone Street east of Broad corresponds nearly with the Hoogh Street of that day. The present Broad Street was not laid out until long afterwards. MELYN'S patent covered the east half of the present Broad Street from the south line of Hoogh Street, extended west, south to the shore of East River. He acquired by purchase in 1644 the property bounded by Hoogh Street (Stone Street) on the north, the lot on which the Great Tavern stood on the east, East River (Pearl Street) on the south, and the double lot granted to him by patent on the west. This property had a frontage on Hoogh Street and on the river of about one hundred and thirty-five feet. On the lot granted him by patent MELYN built a modest two story house, probably of brick. Its location appears to have been in the easterly half of the present Broad Street, midway between Stone and Pearl Streets. In 1657 a canal, the Heere Graft, was dug in the present Broad Street, and the lot granted MELYN by patent was taken for that purpose. In partial compensation the Burgomaster gave to the MELYN family a lot only eighteen feet square at the southeast corner of Stone and Broad Streets. On this lot the second MELYN house was built; 28th May, 1684, after the death of Jannetje, the widow of Cornelis MELYN, this lot was conveyed by her son Jacob. "It is curious fact that this small plat of ground has retained its dimensions though the vicissitudes of nearly two centuries and a half, and is today occupied by a small and somewhat dingy brick building with a wealth of rusty iron fire-escapes; it appears to have resisted absorption by the more imposing structure whose blank walls of yellow brick overtower it on two sides." In INNES' "New Amsterdam" is a view of the East River shore in 1652, taken from an old print showing the first house of Cornelis MELYN, and a view of the site of the later MELYN house as it now appears. In 1645, MELYN leased from the Company two acres of ground covering the site of the present Trinity Church, and the northern portion of the church yard and extending to North River, and raised a crop of grain thereon. III. RICHARD, of whom later.

IV. Thomas, b. between 1580 and 1590; came to America and settled at Watertown, Massachusetts.

RICHARD BARTLETT, came from Stopham, Sussex, England, settled in Newbury, Massachusetts, in 1635; d. 25th May, 1647; wife's name not given. He was descended from Adam DE BARTTELOT, who with William the Conqueror came over from Normandy, and fought at the Battle of Hastings, and who received grants of land at Stopham, Sussex. The original arms of the family in England were sable, three sinister falconers' gloves, argent, arranged triangularly, two above, one below, pendent, bands around the wrists, and tassels, golden. Near the close of the fifteenth century, one of the crests, the castle, was granted to John BARTTELOT who in command of the Sussex troops, captured the castle of Fontenoy, in France. In the sixteenth century, the swan crest was introduced to commemorate the right of the family to keep swans upon the River Arun, a right granted by William the Conqueror. The estates, consisting of several thousands of acres of land, granted more than eight hundred years ago have descended in the male line of the BARTTELOT family to the present day. The present head of the family in England is Sir Walter George BARTTELOT, who owns and occupies the ancestral estate. His father, Sir Walter Balfour BARTTELOT, was killed in the Boer War. His younger and only brother, Commander BARTTELOT of the Pathfinder, was killed 9th September, 1914, in the present European war. His ship was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine in the British Channel.

Lineage

The lineage of this family in America is traced back to Adam de Barttelot, who came over with William the Conqueror from Normandy, France, to England, and fought at the Battle of Hastings. He received grants of land in Stopham, Sussex, where he settled. The estate of the Barttelot family in England, consisting of several thousands of acres of land and granted more than 800 years ago, has descended in the male line of the Barttelot family to the present day. The estate is situated in Stopham, Pulborough, Sussex, on the River Arun, and the mansion upon the estate is known as Stopham House. Upon the estate is the old Stopham Church where many members of the early generations of the Barttelots are buried. The subject of this memoir visited the estate in the summer of 1914, just before the outbreak of the war. The present head of the family is Sir Walter Barttelot who owns and occupies the estate. He is now serving in the European War with the rank of Major. Lady Barttelot, his wife, in a letter to the subject of this memoir under date of September 14, 1915, writes, "My husband, Major Sir Walter, is serving in the Dardanelles on Sir Ian Hamilton's Staff. He was very badly wounded by a bullet through the lung at the Battle of the Aisne on September 14, 1914. He was then serving with his Regiment, the 2d Coldstream Guards, and went out with them with the Expeditionary Force. He made a most wonderful recovery and returned to active service about three months ago. Sir Walter's brother Lieut. Nigel Barttelot, was killed when commanding his Destroyer, H.M.S. Liberty at Helgoland." Sir Walter Barttelot's father was killed in the Boer War. In the sixteenth century the swan crest was introduced in the BARTTELOT arms to commemorate the right of the family to keep swans upon the River Arun, a right granted by William the Conqueror. Hence, the Barttelot crest—a swan couched argent, wings expanded.

ADAM DE BARTTELOT was buried in Stopham, 1100; his son

WILLIAM BARTTELOT DE STOPHAM, who was buried in Stopham Church; his son

JOHN BARTTELOT, ESQ., who was buried in Stopham Church; his son

RICHARD BARTTELOT, ESQ., who was buried in Stopham Church; his son

THOMAS BARTTELOT, ESQ., who was buried in Stopham Church: m. Assoline DE STOPHAM, dau. of John DE STOPHAM; their son

JOHN BARTTELOT, ESQ., who, in command of the Sussex troops, captured the castle of Fontenoy in France. To him near the close of the fifteenth century was granted the castle, one of the crests of the BARTTELOT arms. The original arms of the family in England were sable, three sinister falconers' gloves, argent, arranged triangularly, two above, one below, pendent, bands around the wrist, and tassels, golden. He m. Joan DE STOPHAM, dau. and co-heir of John DE STOPHAM; their son

JOHN BARTTELOT, member of Parliament for Sussex County, who died in 1453. He fought at Agincourt; m. Joan DE LEWKNOR, dau. and heir of John DE LEWKNOR; their son

CAPT. NATHAN BARTLET, b. in Newbury, 23d December, 1691; d. 1775; moved to that part of Kittery, now Eliot, in 1713. Captain Bartlet was a ganner and did a prosperous business. He purchased in 1725 60 acres of land at Sturgeon Creek of John WITTUM for £250. The following year he bought 20 acres of land of Peter WITTUM, paying therefor £100. An old deed from John HEARD to his son-in-law, Capt. Nathan BARTLET, in 1725, gives him a tract of land at Third Hill with one-half part of Stoney Brook and one-third part of a saw-mill built by James EMERY and Maj. Charles FROST adding this note "that it is to be understood that the above given and granted premises are not to be reckoned as any part of my daughter, Shuah's, portion." This land and other land which he purchased became the homestead place of his descendants. Captain BARTLET built (about 1718) a brick house near John HEARD's home, the present site of the Bartlett homestead, making the bricks on his land bordering on Sturgeon Creek. This brick house was partially destroyed by an earthquake about 1737, and Captain BARTLET built about 1740 the oak timbered two and a half story Colonial house, now standing, in which five generations of the Bartlett family have been born and reared. He m. 10th March, 1714, Shuah HEARD, b. 15th January, 1694, dau. of Capt. John and Phebe (LITTLEFIELD) HEARD. Phebe (LITTLEFIELD) HEARD, Maj. Charles FROST and Dennis DOWNING were killed by Indians at Ambush Rock, in that part of Kittery, now Eliot, on Sunday, 4th July, 1697, while returning on horseback from the meeting house in the Parish of Unity, in the Precinct of Berwick, where they had attended divine service. A bronze tablet marks this spot. The body of Phebe LITTLEFIELD HEARD was buried in the old burying ground upon the farm in Eliot, belonging to the heirs of Sylvester BARTLETT. A bronze tablet also marks this spot. These tablets were erected by Ralph Sylvester BARTLETT, the subject of this memoir.

ISSUE

I. Joanna Wharton, b. 27th December, 1915.

NICHOLAS BIDDLE was educated at the Newton Grammar School, also Central High School, and is a graduate of the Episcopal Academy of Philadelphia; later entered Princeton College, leaving in the Junior year to enter business life; was connected with the Insurance Company of North America until September, 1915, since which time has been associated with Hutchinson Rivinus and Company, of Philadelphia; is a member of the 1st City Troop of Philadelphia and was ordered into service 6th July, 1916, on the Mexican border.

Lineage

The ancestor of this family was William BIDDLE, b. 1630, near London, England; left that city July, 1681, and came to New Jersey; he is said to have been an officer in the Parliamentary Army during the Civil War in England, but soon after its close joined the Society of Friends; his name appears among the list of persons imprisoned by Major BROWN, 1660–1661, for attending "non-conformist" meetings. Esther BIDDLE, his mother, an eminent Friend, suffered persecution for "Truth's Sake" at various periods; he d. 1712, at "Mt. Hope," West Jersey; will proved 3d March, 1711–1712. Purchased 23d January, 1676, of William PENN, Garber LAURIE, Nicholas LUCAS and Edward BYLLANGE a one-half share of the lands in Western Jersey and became therefore one of the Proprietors of that Province. His later purchase gave him 1¾ shares of the 16 shares into which the Province was divided, entitling him to 43,000 acres. Settled in West Jersey in 1681; Member of the Governor's Council 1682–1685 and 1701. and of the General Assembly of the Province, 1683, 1684–1685 and 1702; was a Justice of Burlington County from 1682 until his death; one of the Trustees selected by the Proprietors to conduct the business of the Proprietorship, 14th February, 1687, and regularly re-elected thereafter, serving as President of the Board of Trustees, 1706–1707.; one of the Board of Commissioners for laying out lands; Member of Council of Proprietary of West Jersey, 1682, re-elected 15th March, 1683; m. 7th December, 1665, at Bishopgate Street Friends Meeting in London, England, Sarah KEMP, b. 1634, d. 27th February, 1709.

GEORGE BROOKE, II, received his education at private schools; received degree of Ph.B. from University of Pennsylvania in 1889; appointed 24th February, 1903, Lieutenant-Colonel on Staff of Governor PENNYPACKER of Pennsylvania.

Lineage

JOHN BROOKE, II, and his wife Frances of Hagg in the township of Henley and Parish of Almonbury in Yorkshire, with their two youngest sons, James and Matthew, sailed from Liverpool on the ship Britannia, Richard NICHOLAS, commander, in the year 1698; arriving in the early part of 1699 to take up lands he had purchased. In consequence of a contagious disease on board the vessel, the passengers were not permitted to land at Philadelphia, but landed lower down the river on the New Jersey side, about where Gloucester now stands. They at once went to stop at the house of William COOPER, Cooper's Point, New Jersey, a friend of theirs, and in a very short time both died and were buried at Newton Creek Friends Meeting House Cemetery at Haddonfield, New Jersey. JOHN BROOKE is known to have belonged and was an active member of the estimable Society of Friends and it was probably the severe persecution on that point that obliged his leaving. The Vicar of Kirburton Parish, which adjoined Almonbury, the Rev. Joseph BRIGGS, was a stern upholder of the Established Church opinions, and was the most active in the persecution of the Quakers of that section. The estate purchased by John BROOKE before leaving England, from William PENN, consisted of 2,500 acres of land to be taken up anywhere between the Delaware and Susquehanna Rivers, where vacant land should be found; James and Matthew BROOKE, after the death of their parents, took up the land in Limerick Township, County of Philadelphia, now Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, where they settled. The two brothers divided the land between them and Matthew seems to have prospered, as by records he added more land to his estate and built in 1716 the first stone house in all that country. It was situated on the Manatawney Road, and was a large house of Colonial design. It was torn down in 1878.

MATTHEW BROOKE, II, of Birdsboro, Pennsylvania; b. 1719, at Limerick; d. October, 1806, at Birdsboro; some years before his death, he moved to Birdsboro, as he and his son, Matthew III, had purchased in 1788, part of the iron works of the BIRD family at that place. He represented Philadelphia County in the Provincial Conference of Pennsylvania held at Carpenter Hall in 1776; was one of the committee on removing the public stores from Philadelphia, when the city was threatened by the British troops. He also held and served on many local committees that those stirring times of the Revolution demanded. In the "Pennsylvania Archives," Vol. III, it cites where he sent as a present to the Honorable Council of Safety of Philadelphia, in the year 1776, two cannon, one a twelve and the other an eighteen pounder; the cannon having been made at Hopewell Furnace; m. 29th March, 1744, Sarah REESE, dau. of Thomas REESE.

MATTHEW BROOKE, III, of Birdsboro, Pennsylvania; b. 6th February, 1761, in Limerick Township; d. 1822, in Birdsboro. In the year 1786 the BIRD family, who owned extensive iron works and great tracts of lands, situated at and about Birdsboro, became financially involved and in 1788 began selling off certain tracts, forges, etc., and a short time after that, Matthew BROOKE, II, and his son Matthew BROOKE, III, purchased one of these tracts and one of the forges and moved from Limerick to Birdsboro, residing in one of the BIRD houses which was situated near where the present rolling mills stand. It was torn down in 1880 to make room for additions to the rolling mills. In the year 1800 he with his brother Thomas and brother-in-law, Daniel BUCKLEY of Philadelphia, purchased from the BIRD family, Hopewell Furnace and an estate of 10,000 acres extending from Hopewell to Birdsboro, a distance of five miles, which had been built about 1760 by Mark BIRD, and ranks among the first furnaces of tbe country. Cannon and shell were made here for the Revolutionary War. A short time before Matthew BROOKE and his son Matthew made their first purchase, Capt. John Louis BARDE, a retired English army officer, in the year 1788, leased the iron works of the BIRDS together with certain land which embraced the old BIRD Manor House, a very large and handsome house standing in the midst of a great park with sweeping lawn down to the banks of the Schuylkill River. It was in all likelihood one of the finest estates that could be found in Pennsylvania at that date. The old house is still standing, but the grounds have all given way to the march of progress, and it is now in the midst of the thriving borough of Birdsboro. Here Matthew BROOKE met Miss Elizabeth BARDE, and in the year 1805, married her. In the year 1796 Captain BARDE purchased the properties he had under lease, but a few years later sold them to his son-in-law, who had by that time purchased all the other lands of the BIRDS and had thereby, before 1800, become the owner of all the extensive BIRD properties and works. Later, the Hopewell property was divided, Thomas and Daniel BUCKLEY still retaining the furnace and half of the lands, and Matthew BROOKE taking the other half and retiring from the firm. Matthew BROOKE was a man of prominence of his day, giving both time and counsel to his localists and state. When quite young, he joined the Continental Army, but was soon after taken prisoner and placed on board a prison ship where he was held some time; finally being released through an exchange of prisoners but as the war was then drawing to a close, he never saw any active service. His two sons, Edward and George, at his death inherited the properties, but both being very young, the works were leased and so run for a number of years until the coming of age of Edward BROOKE, when he with his brother George took over the management of the business.

William Alanson Bryan was born on a farm near New Sharon, Iowa. Received his early education in the public schools; secured his degree of B.Sc. at Iowa State College, 1896; Assistant, Department of Zoology, in charge of Iowa State College Museum, 1893; on expedition to Big Stone Lake, 1894; special lecturer on museum methods, University of Minnesota, Indiana University, University of Chicago, Purdue University, Iowa College, 1895–1897; Assistant Curator, Department of Ornithology, Field Columbian Museum, Chicago, Illinois, 1898–1899; appointed Representative of United States Department of Agriculture to investigate fauna of the Hawaiian Islands, 1899; travelled extensively in Europe and America studying Museum Administration, 1900; Curator, Bishop Museum of Ethnology and Natural History, 1900–1907; organized and made President Pacific Scientific Institution, 1907; Professor of Zoölogy and Geology at the College of Hawaii since 1909; Candidate for Governor of the Territory of Hawaii, 1912; Candidate for Territorial Senate, 1914; Chairman Territorial Central Committee, 1916; Democrat; Member of Central Union Church, Honolulu, Hawaii. Bibliography exceeds seventy-five titles on Hawaiian and kindred subjects including "Monograph of Marcus Island," "Mission of the Pacific Scientific Institution," "Key to Hawaiian Birds," "Natural History of Hawaii" (600 pages), etc.

Lineage

William Smith Bryan was a landholder in Ireland, County Clare, at the time of the British invasion under Cromwell, and for taking the side of Ireland was transported as a "rebellious subject," in 1650, to the American Colonies, with his family, goods and chattels, consisting of a ship load. He settled in Gloucester County, Virginia; he had eleven sons. Morgan Bryan, who was in Norfolk County in 1693, was probably one of these sons. Francis Bryan, the oldest son, returned to Ireland, in 1677, and endeavored to recover his hereditary titles and estates, but was so greatly persecuted by the English Government that he sought refuge in Denmark. After a few years he returned to Ireland. His oldest son Morgan was born in Denmark. It is believed that William Bryan, b. in 1685, was also his son. William Bryan and his wife, Margaret, lived at Ballyroney, County Down, Ireland. They were Presbyterians. The town of Bryansford near by is said to have been named for some of his family. William and Margaret Bryan one day sent their little son John into the woods to cut a stick to make a handle for a hook used in weaving, and he was arrested for poaching. After much trouble and expense the father got him clear and immediately sailed for America, where, he said, timber was free and there were no constables. This was in the year 1718. William BRYAN and family settled in New Jersey or Pennsylvania. (From Bryan-Akers Family by Jesse BRYAN.

"The BRYAN family from the ancestral stock has spread into every State in the Union, the District of Columbia, Hawaii and the Philippine Islands. It includes men in every walk of life from President to the humblest citizen; military men of every grade; educators from presidents of Universities to common school teachers, divines, lawyers and doctors; poets, authors and inventors; pioneers, scientists and financiers; railway men, electricians and farmers and the direct descendants from immigrants on the Mayflower. BRYANS have fought in all American wars. None has ever been convicted of crime, or in prison (except military prison), or paupers depending on public charity, and none is known as drunkard and but few who drank habitually."

Arthur Edwin Bye, Landscape Painter and Writer on Art History, was educated at George School; Graduated 1904; studied drawing and painting at the School of Industrial Art of Philadelphia and at the Pennsylvania Academy, 1904–1907; studied under Courteois and Collin at Paris, 1907; then at Oxford, England, 1910–1911; and at the University of Pennsylvania and graduated B.A., 1911; Assistant Professor at Lafayette College, 1911–1913; studied at Princeton and received degrees M.A., 1914, and Ph.D., 1916.

Lineage

This family was an ancient one among the gentry of England. A direct pedigree is recorded in the College of Heraldry of the Byes of Basingstoke, dating from a remote period up to 1622. Among the ancestors of the American emigrant were:

Thomas Bye, Member of Parliament for Reading, 1403.

Thomas Bye, Mayor of Reading, 1516.

John Bye, Bailiff of Basingstoke, 1516, 1535, 1540 and 1542.

John Bye, Steward of the Royal Manor of Basingstoke and "Deputy of the Most Noble William," Marquess of Winchester, 1585 and 1603.

John Bye. Quaker preacher, imprisoned 1675 in Reading jail for preaching.

Thomas Bye, b. circa 1650, probably at "Copyngedbridge House," Basingstoke, Hampshire, England; d. 25th June, 1726; emigrated to America from Horselydown, Southwark, England in 1699, with son John; his wife, Margaret, b. in England, d. 6th October, 1724, she and daughters followed to America in 1701; he settled on an estate of 1,000 acres in Buckingham, Bucks County. The history of the life of Thomas Bye is practically the story of the rise of Quakerism in England.

IV. Julia Johnson, b. 14th January, 1884; m. 8th December, 1914, Baron E. de Nagell of Shaffelaar, Holland, in the Diplomatic Service, is now Secretary of Legation for the Netherlands, and is located in London, England.

John Caldwell Calhoun in the fall of 1860, at the age of seventeen years, entered the South Carolina College at Columbia as a Sophomore. In the subsequent spring of 1861 the Civil War broke out and he immediately volunteered for the Confederate Army in a company of cadets which hastened to Charlestown, where they arrived at the time of the bombardment of Fort Sumter. After the cadets were disbanded, he proceeded to Columbia and joined Capt. Thom Taylor's Company, which formed a part of the Hampton Legion Cavalry, of which he was appointed Color Sergeant; he was, however, discharged on account of his extreme youth. Hastily returning to his home, he organized a fine cavalry troop of 160 men and was on his way to the front within one month of his discharge. His company was assigned to Adams Battalion commanded by Maj. James P. Adams, and afterwards merged into the 4th Regiment, South Carolina Cavalry, under command of Col. B. H. Rutledge, which was one of the Regiments composing Gen. M. C. Butler's Brigade (since United States Senator from South Carolina), and it was under this commander Captain Calhoun led the charge at Trevillion Station and continued to serve until the end of the war. When Lee surrendered, he returned to Fort Hill, only to find his ancestral home devastated, and the entire fortune of the family swept away. In addition, was the recent death of his father, which imposed upon him the immediate care and support of his widowed mother, together with provision for and the education of his young brothers, Andrew, James and Patrick, and sisters, Margaret and Lucrecia. Captain CALHOUN courageously assumed the life of a planter after the war, with restricted means and under absolutely changed conditions of labor, and by his energy, industry and integrity produced the resources to efficiently discharge the obligations of nature and affection. In 1866 he went to Alabama and entered into a co-partnership with James R. POWELL at Montgomery, for the purpose of colonizing negroes in the Yazoo Valley, Mississippi, to work plantation lands on the coöperative plan. This undertaking proved so successful that he sold out his interest to his partner in less than one year for $10,000. He then went to Arkansas and repeated the enterprise on a much larger scale, retaining immediate supervision of and managing vast plantations, while inaugurating and effecting an imigration movement of negroes, which resulted in the removal of over 5,000 of them from the Carolinas, Georgia and Alabama to the Mississippi Valley. During the fourteen years of his connections with these undertakings, all his agricultural operations were carried on under the system of coöperative tenantry, which proved profitable to both land owner and laborer, while it was the first practical solution of the way to efficiently assist the freed men upward in citizenship and to land proprietorship, and has since been generally adopted in that section. Previous to withdrawing from this occupation he organized his agricultural interests into the Calhoun Land Company and the Florence Planting Company, while occupying the position of President of each corporation for some time. So important was Mr. CALHOUN's experience regarded by Senator BLAIR's Senate Committee on Education and Labor, while sitting in 1885, in New York City, that he was called as a leading witness before the Committee and his testimony was given great weight and prominence in their reports to Congress, and is now quoted as standard authority on the subject. In 1884 Captain CALHOUN disposed of his plantation interests at a surplus net profit of over $100,000 and removed to New York City to enter the greater arena of finance. Among his first operations was the organization of a syndicate to settle and refund the state debt of Arkansas, which was successfully accomplished. His marked abilities soon brought him into prominence in Wall Street, where his efforts were largely directed toward financial interests of his beloved South, in bringing Southern securities into favor with capitalists and investors. He soon developed extraordinary capacity in his clear grasp of transportation problems and railroad management, especially in the South, and this promptly led to his classification among the giants of the street. His first notable operation was in inaugurating a combination to acquire control of the Richmond Terminal Railroad properties. These were afterwards utilized to absorb the Richmond & Danville and Eastern Tennessee Railway System. Simultaneously he led the movement to obtain control of the Central Railroad and Banking Company of Georgia and its tributaries, and under this régime he became a leading Director, its Vice-President and Chairman of its Finance Committee. He was also elected a Director of the Richmond and Danville Railroad and the West Point Terminal Company, which brought him into contact with the most prominent railroad magnates of America; so that, in 1891, he had a dominating influence in the management of 9,000 miles of railway. From this time on Captain CALHOUN rapidly became recognized as a leading citizen of New York. He was elected a member of the Manhattan, Reform, Lawyers, New and other Clubs in the Metropolis, of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, and of the New York Genealogical and Biographical Society. He was one of the chief originators of the Southern Society, which was established for the purpose of promoting fraternal friendships among Southerners resident in the city and the enlargement of amicable relations with citizens generally. He was President of the Society for some time and a leading spirit in its membership, and the interest and enthusiasm he inspired among them was always characteristic of his ancestry. At the fourth annual banquet of the Society on 22d February, 1890, when he was both the President of the Society itself and presiding over an assembly of 600 distinguished guests, with President CLEVELAND on his right and Bishop Henry C. POTTER on his left, his loyal and affectionate eulogy upon Jefferson DAVIS and Henry W. GRADY, who had died during the previous year, without offending courtesy or arousing partisan feeling, was regarded as a marvel of delicacy and oratorical skill. In 1873 Captain CALHOUN was appointed by Governor BERRY a Delegate from Arkansas to the Louisville, Kentucky, Cotton Exposition, and the succeeding year fulfilled a similar mission at the New Orleans Exposition. He was Vice-President of the Convention at Washington, which petitioned Congress in 1884 for the improvement of the Mississippi River and its tributaries, and was for several years, during his residence in Arkansas, President of the Levee Board of Improvements for the State and in all his business career has devoted untiring energy to the advancement and prosperous development of his beloved South. In 1890 he was selected as a member of the World's Fair Committee of One Hundred, by the citizens of New York, under the leadership of Hon. Chauncey M. DEPEW, and from them, was chosen as one of the Executive Committee of twelve. Captain CALHOUN was also one of the originators of the Sons of the American Revolution Societies, and has always taken a keen interest in whatever incites Americans to loyal pride in their forefathers. In 1897 he was appointed Special Ambassador to France by the Sons of the American Revolution, to confer with the President and Cabinet of the French Republic and also with the representatives of descendants of Lafayette, Rochambeau and De Grasse and of the Society of Arts, Science and Literature, asking their coöperation in commemorating the 119th Anniversary of the signing of the treaty between France and the Colonies.

Lineage

The origin of the family has been distinctly traced back to the reign of Gregory the Great and connects with the Earl of Lexon in Dumbartonshire, Scotland, and one of the younger sons of King Conock of Ireland, who came to the same region at that period. The name of CONOCK soon became corrupted into COLQUOHOUN, COLQUHOUN, COLCHOUN and finally CALHOUN. The first ancestor who obtained the barony of COLQUHOUN in Dumbartonshire, was Umphredies, who lived in the time of Alexander II and his posterity have enjoyed successive possession ever since. His son Robert, who lived in the reign of King David, was ordered by that king to storm and take the castle of Dumbarton, which was strongly fortified. His written reply to the King, was "Si je puis."—"If I can." He effected the capture of the castle by strategy. Collecting his trusted friends and followers, he arranged for a great hunt in the immediate neighborhood, which drew out temporarily from the castle most of the defending warriors and retainers, and when the chase was at its height, he suddenly sounded the recall of his clan and hounds and took unresisting possession of Dumbarton Castle of which he was subsequently created Earl. For this deed of personal valor and warlike strategy, the crest was bestowed upon him. This consists of a Stag's Head, indicative of the chase, supported by two ratch hounds, with the motto, "Si je puis," and below this the words, "Snock Locken" the war cry of the COLQUHOUN Clan. Succeeding Sir Robert was Sir Humphrey and after him Sir John, a man of parts and Governor of Dumbarton Castle in the reign of James II. Then came Sir John of Luss, who was made a Knight of Nova Scotia by Charles in 1602. He became such a zealous loyalist during the Civil War that he was fined £2,000, by Oliver CROMWELL. Following these was Sir James, and after him Humphrey, fourth Baronet of Luss. From him came Patrick, who was given an estate near Glasgow, and then his son Patrick, IV, and succeeding him was Sir James again, who became Principal Clerk of Sessions and married Mary FALCONER of Edinburgh. His son Patrick, a lawyer, was the father of James CALHOUN, who came to this country from Donegal, Ireland, in 1733, bringing with him his wife, Catherine MONTGOMERY, with four sons and one daughter, James, William, Ezekiel, Patrick and Catherine. The cognomens of James and Patrick have had the preference for eldest sons in the family. Their first settlement was in Pennsylvania and from thence they removed to the waters of Kenhawa, Wythe County, Virginia. They were driven from there by the Indians after Braddock's Defeat, and established Calhoun Settlement, in Abbeville County, South Carolina, February, 1756. Their settlement here was again devastated and broken up in 1760 after a desperate encounter, with the Indians, in which James, the eldest son, and his mother were slain. Subsequent to this, Patrick, the youngest son, father of the celebrated statesman and great-grandfather of our subject, was appointed to the command of a body of rangers by the Provincial Government for the defense of the frontiers at the time of the Revolution, and rendered conspicuous and sanguinary service in fighting both Indians and Tories in defense of his country. On his mother's side, Captain CALHOUN's lineage goes back distinctly to the reign of King William III, at which time a census of the officers of the Court and Government, both civil and clerical, shows the name of William Green (in 1693–1694) among the select body guard of one hundred under command of Charles, Earl of Manchester, in daily waiting upon the King. They were required to be men of the best quality and not less than six feet high. Their attire consisted of scarlet coats to the knee, scarlet breeches, richly mounted with black velvet, broad crown caps with velvet bands, and distinguished by ribbons of the King's color. Robert, the son of the above William, was born in 1695, and emigrated to Virginia with his uncle, Sir William DUFF, a Quaker, about the year 1717. Sir William settled in what is now King

George County, Virginia, and acquired large landed possessions. Duff GREEN, son of the above Robert, was next in line of maternal ancestry. He married for his second wife, Ann, dau. of Col. Henry WILLIS, founder of Fredericksburg, Virginia, whose wife, Mildred WASHINGTON was aunt and god mother of Gen. George WASHINGTON, which thus brought his children into blood relations with the Father of his Country; these ties also exist with the LEES, LEWISES and HENRYS of Virginia. John GREEN, the eldest son of this Duff GREEN, by his first marriage was father of the distinguished jurist and scholar, William GREEN, LL.D., of Richmond, Virginia (b. in 1809 and d. 1880) who left a conspicuous history in jurisprudence. The above John GREEN was appointed a Captain of the Culpepper Minute Men, in the War of the Revolution and had reached the rank of Colonel of the First Virginia Regiment, when leading the advance of the storming party at Great Bridge. He was also seriously wounded in the engagement at Mamorouk. The previously mentioned William GREEN, who is next in direct maternal line of Captain CALHOUN's ancestry, was the youngest son of the above Duff. He became a Revolutionary soldier at the age of fifteen and was with Washington at Valley Forge in the winter of 1777–1778, and afterwards with General MORGAN at Cowpens. He m. Ann MARSHALL, who was a cousin of Chief Justice John MARSHALL and also of the celebrated Humphrey MARSHALL of Kentucky. Next in line was Gen. Duff GREEN, the noted diplomat, soldier and editor of Gen. JACKSON's time, who served with General HARRISON's command in the War of 1812. Gen. Duff GREEN's maternal grand father was Markham MARSHALL, whose wife was Ann BAILEY, and these resided for some time in the Shenandoah Valley, Virginia, from whence they removed to Wayne County, Kentucky. It is said that the descendants of Ann BAILEY and Mildred WASHINGTON include more distinguished names than any other families in America. Gen. Duff GREEN of Kentucky was the father of Margaret Maria GREEN, who was his second child and Colonel CALHOUN's mother. Her mother was Lucretia EDWARDS, a sister of Ninian EDWARDS, a distinguished jurist and first Governor of Illinois.

Lineage

George Bunker, 1632, son of William Bon Coeur, a French Huguenot, for whom Bunker Hill was named.

Captain Lawrence Wilkinson, one of the founders of The Providence and Rhode Island Plantation, who claimed descent from Henry De Bohun, Earl of Hereford, a Magna Charta Baron, through Ida Estelle Stitt, dau. of Seth Bunker and Sarah Wilkinson (Wall) Stitt. Ida Estelle Stitt m. 4th March, 1868, William Musser Capp, M.D. of Philadelphia (see "Mayflower Descendants," "Huguenot Society of America" and "Baronial Order of Runnemede.") Seth Bunker Capp is also descended from Capt. George Musser and John Singer, soldiers of the American Revolution, through Sarah Singer, who m. 1829, John Charles Capp. The Capp family were Scotch and trace their origin and Arms to the days of Bruce. Owing to religious differences they went to the Palatinate and became Germanized. The first of the name of Capp in America was Andreas Kapp, who with his wife Regina Sophia, left the Palatinate and moved with many others to America in 1710, settling first on the Hudson River, New York; becoming dissatisfied with property conditions, they purchased land in Pennsylvania and under the leadership of Andreas Kapp in 1728 they marched through the unbroken wilderness, assisted by friendly Indians, and settled in the Lebanon Valley about twenty miles from the present city of Reading, calling their settlement Heidelberg. Andreas d. 1746, without issue, leaving a considerable landed estate. His two younger brothers John Michael and George Frederick had previously come to America by the ship Pennsylvania, arriving in 1732, at Philadelphia, and purchased 425 acres of land adjoining Andreas' holdings. Their surname in autograph signature on passenger list, to oath of allegiance and on title to lands was spelled Capp and this spelling has ever since been retained by the descendants of John Michael. George Frederick Capp m. Eva Marie and by his will left his estate to his widow and their children, John Frederick, John George and George Michael. John Michael was educated at the University of Heidelberg; nineteen years after his settlement in America he visited Europe and his native town of Heidelberg in 1751; he d. in 1764. he bequeathed a considerable estate to his widow and children; m. 1737, Margaret, surname unknown, d. 1785.

ISSUE

I. Sarah Carroll, b. in East Thompson, Connecticut, 16th February, 1882; Graduate of Roxbury High School, Boston, Massachusetts, and the Department of Hygiene and Physical Education, Wellesley College, Wellesley, Massachusetts; Supervisor of Physical Education in the Northampton Public Schools, Northampton, Massachusetts.

H. Mary Larned, b. in East Thompson, Connecticut, 8th November, 1884; d. 7th April, 1885.

JUDGE GEORGE STEPHEN CROSBY received his education in the public and private schools of Thompson, Connecticut, in which place he has always resided. On finishing his education he entered into the hotel business with his father, Stephen CROSBY, who had bought the Vernon Styles' Tavern at Thompson Center. He continued in this business until his father's death in 1884, when he sold the hotel business and became interested in farming. He bought the ancestral estate of his maternal grandfather, George LARNED, and later owned by his paternal grandfather, Stephen CROSBY. He joined the Thompson Congregational Church early in life and was elected Deacon of the same in 1892. He was Director of the Thompson National Bank; an Incorporator of the Thompson Dime Savings Bank; in 1902 was elected Judge of the Probate Court of the District of Thompson, which position he held until he reached the age limit of seventy. He is a descendant of Roger WILLIAMS, who founded the city of Providence in 1636; of Rev. Chad BROWN, who was one of the thirteen original settlers of Providence and the first settled pastor of the First Baptist Church in America, he was ordained in 1640 and buried in 1650 in the home lot, which is the site of the present Court House; of William WICKENDON who was one of the thirteen original settlers of Providence, he signed an agreement for the form of government and was ordained pastor of the First Baptist Church in 1647; of Cabel CARR who was treasurer and Governor of the Providence Plantation.

Lineage

Thomas Crosby, the emigrant, came from England and settled first in Cambridge, and later in Rowley, Massachusetts. Crosby, or Crosbie, is a well known name throughout York County, England, and for several generations we find them at Holme-on-Spalding Moor. Here Thomas Crosby was born about 1575. He was the son of Anthony and Alison Crosby. He m. 19th October, 1600, Jane Sotheron bapt. 4th March, 1581, in England, and was buried in Rowley, Massachusetts, ,2d May, 1662, dau. of William and Constance (Lambert) Sotheron. Tradition says that Thomas Crosby came over in company with the Rev. Ezekiel Rogers in 1638. That he was a man of wealth for those days is shown by his advancing a considerable sum of money for the first printing press brought and set up in America. He spent his last years in the home of his grandson Dr. Anthony Crosby, of Rowley, and d. there 6th May, 1661.

George William Douglas graduated from St. Paul's School, Concord, New Hampshire, in 1868, and from Trinity College, Hartford, Connecticut, B.A. (valedictorian) 1871; M.A., 1874; D.D., 1895. He received the degree of S.T.D. from Hobart College in 1885 and D.D. from the University of the South in 1899; he graduated from the General Theological Seminary, New York City, in 1874. From then until 1876, he studied at Oxford, England, and the University of Bonn, Germany. He was ordained Deacon by Bishop Horatio Potter in 1874; ordained Priest in 1878, becoming assistant minister to the Rev. Edward A. Washburn, D.D., at Calvary Church, New York City. In 1879 he was Assistant of Trinity Parish as Vicar of Trinity Church, New York, 1879–1886. He resigned in 1886 on account of ill health and spent two years in Europe. From 1889 to 1892 he was Rector of St. John's Church, Washington, D. C., and Trustee of Washington Cathedral; and of Trinity Church, New Haven, Connecticut, from 1895 to 1898. He was Select Preacher at Grace Church, New York City, and Instructor in the Training School for Deaconesses from 1898 to 1904. In 1904 he became Senior Canon Residentrary of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, New York City. He declined the Presidency of Hobart College, Geneva, New York, 1885. Lecturer Union Theological Seminary, New York; Philadelphia Divinity School; Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge, Massachusetts. He is the author of "Sermons Preached in St. John's Church, Washington," 1893; "Prayers for Children," 1884; "Hints to Sunday School Teachers," 1883; "Essays in Appreciation" 1912, and also various sermons, addresses, magazine articles. He was Chaplain of the District of Columbia Society, Sons of the American Revolution, 1890–1891.

Lineage

Deacon William Douglas, the immigrant ancestor, was b. 9th August, 1610, doubtless in Scotland; m. probably about 1636, Ann Mattle, dau. of Thomas Mattle of Ringstead, England. In 1640, with his wife Ann and two children, Ann and Robert, William Douglas went to New England. Tradition says that they landed at Cape Ann. They settled first in Gloucester, but removed within the year to Boston, where he is first mentioned in the Boston records on 31st June, 1640, when he was made a Freeman. He removed shortly to Ipswich where he was entitled to a share of the public land, 28th February, 1641. There he remained for about four years, returning to Boston in 1645. He was a cooper by trade and on 1st May, 1646, there is record of his purchasing from Walter MERRY and Thomas ANCHOR, a dwelling house, shop and land. Later he went to New London, Connecticut, and obtained considerable property through purchase and grants from the town. One of his farms was inherited by his son William and has remained in the hands of descendants for over two centuries. In 1662–1663 he was appointed one of the Appraisers of Property for the town of New London. The land for a new church was purchased from him and the graveyard still remains on that place. He and Mr. WILLERBY were appointed to deliver provisions to Commissary TRACY at Norwich during King Philip's War. His education for the times was liberal. He held many important offices in the town at different times. He was Deputy to the General Court in 1672 and once or twice later. In May, 1670, his wife, then sixty years old made a journey to Boston to establish her claim as heir to her father's property. She d. in New London in 1685 and William DOUGLAS himself d. there on 26th July, 1682.

Author of "Some Old Masters of Greek Architecture," and other works.

Lineage

The emigrant ancestor of this family was Deacon William DOUGLAS, I, b. in Scotland, 1610; d. 1682. His father's name is supposed to have been Robert DOUGLAS, b. in Scotland in 1588. The exact date of Deacon William DOUGLAS' arrival in America and the name of the ship are uncertain. The tradition is that the company landed at Cape Ann. William settled at Gloucester, but removed to Boston the same year. As the date of his residence in Boston is given as 1640 it is to be assumed that he reached this country in that year. The next year he removed to Ipswich, Massachusetts, where he was entitled to a share of the public lands. In December, 1659, he purchased of William HOUGH of New London, Connecticut, the house that was Robert ISBELL'S in New Street. Soon after in 1660 he removed to New London; Townsman of New London, 1663, 1666, 1669; Deputy to General Court 1672; m. Ann MATTLE of Ringstead, Northamptonshire, England, dau. of Thomas MATTLE, Esq.

Lineage

The Scottish line of Fulton originated in Ayrshire and Lanarkshire and migrated in various directions. The Protestant Colonies in the North of Ireland, received from this source several families of Fulton, and from these sprang the Scotch-Irish Fultons who were destined to bear their share in the flood of immigration which was reaching the shores of America during the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. Several branches of the Fulton lines reached Pennsylvania between 1730 and 1760, who show by their close similarity of names, immediate relationship with the families of Fulton who settled in Massachusetts some twenty or thirty years previously. The Georgia and South Carolina Fultons very evidently migrated from the Pennsylvania branch. From the families located in Eastern Pennsylvania, came the Robert Fulton, who was soon to make his name famous for all time in connection with the first vessel operated by steam. His father d. in Lancaster, Pennsylvania, in 1767, and the family removed to the western part of the State. The relationship between this branch and that of the Massachusetts branch of John and Robert Fulton, is close, and it is in this branch of Massachusetts Fultons that we are interested. In this connection a chart prepared by Sir Theodore Hope, K.C., S.J.C., J.E., of London, England, shows the line of descent to the Robert Fulton branch of the Massachusetts line, from which the subject of this memoir descends. It is as follows:

Lineage

LIEUTENANT LION GARDINER, I, First Lord of the Manor of Gardiner's Island, New York, and the founder of the American branch of the family, was b. in England circa 1599; d. 1663 at East Hampton, Long Island. He was an officer in the English Army in Flanders under Lord DE VERE, and an Engineer and Master of Fortifications of the Prince of Orange in the Low Countries. Assisted as Engineer in the construction of fortifications on Fort Hill, Boston, Massachusetts, in 1636. He erected in 1636 Fort Saybrook at mouth of Connecticut River and commanded the said Fort throughout the Pequot Indian War. Lieut. Lion GARDINER's command of Fort Saybrook continued for four years, his wife sharing the dangers and privations of frontier life with him. Two of their children, David and Mary, were born during that time, David being the first child of English parents to be born in Connecticut. GARDINER then bought of the Indians, the Isle of Wight afterwards, and now, called Gardiner's Island, which purchase was later confirmed by Royal grant, thus becoming its first English proprietor. Here he lived fourteen years and then joined the colony of settlers at East Hampton, Long Island, where he often performed valuable services in quieting Indian uprisings; m. Mary Wilemsen, of Woerden, Holland, dau. of Derike Wilemsen Duercant, and his wife Hachim Bastians.

James Black Gist removed from Kentucky in November, 1875, to Woodland, in Yolo County, California, and in September, 1881, to Tulare, California, where he attended Grammar and High School. Naturally fitted for a business career, he obtained employment as a clerk in the Motive Power Accounting Department of the Southern Pacific Company in 1887, from which he was promoted as Chief Clerk in 1890. He then resided at Tulare, California, but retaining the same position, he moved to Bakersfield in 1891, and to Los Angeles, California, in 1894 His success in this capacity drew attention to him and an opportunity arose to enter the banking business. He was appointed, 1st January, 1902, Assistant Cashier of the Central Bank of Los Angeles, and upon 1st August, 1907, Cashier of the Central National Bank of Los Angeles. He was elected October, 1906, as Secretary and Manager of the Los Angeles Clearing House Association, and both of these positions were retained by him until 1st February, 1915. On the latter date he became Manager for Frank W. Emery, of Los Angeles, a capitalist, and engaged in extensive business enterprises. He has occupied a prominent position in the civic and business world of Los Angles and has been particularly active in his Masonic relationships. He is Treasurer of the Sons of the American Revolution in the State Society of California.

Lineage

Christopher Gist, the immigrant ancestor of all the name in America, emigrated to America some time before 1682 and settled in Baltimore County. From land conveyances as early as 1682 he lived on the south side of Patapsco River and in the same is called "planter." COLONEL CHRISTOPHER GIST of Mt. Braddock, Fayette County, Pennsylvania; b. in Maryland about 1706, and d. in 1759, of smallpox in South Carolina or Georgia. He was first a merchant in Baltimore Town, but failed in business and made an assignment to his relatives, CROMWELL and STANSBURY, in 1745. In 1750 he styled himself as "late of Baltimore County but then in the Colony of Virginia" and conveyed to Tobias STANSBURY the "Gist Limepits" in Baltimore County. He later settled on the Yadkin, in Virginia, and was undoubtedly the most famous scout and first renowned explorer of the Ohio River and Valley through the present states, West Virginia, Kentucky and Ohio, as agent of the Ohio Company. This was in 1750; and he was associated with Gen. George WASHINGTON as Indian scout and forest ranger, being his guide and companion on the journey to Lake Erie in 1753. He was made Captain of the Rangers, organized in Virginia for the defense of frontier, and served through 1756 and until the company was discharged in 1757. He received various titles of "Scout," "Captain" and "Colonel." With his sons, Nathaniel and Thomas, he took part as guide and scout in BRADDOCK's expedition. He served with George WASHINGTON in his victory at Great Meadows and in his disaster the next day, 4th July, 1754, at Fort Necessity, when WASHINGTON surrendered to the French, in superior numbers, but with the honors of war. At the battle of BRADDOCK's Defeat, 9th July, 1755, he was present with his sons, and afterwards raised a Company of Scouts in Maryland and Virginia and rendered efficient service. 1st October, 1755, he was commissioned Lieutenant of the Virginia forces and in 1756 was made Captain of a Company of Scouts. The same year he went to the Carolinas to enlist the Cherokee Indians for the English service, and as late as 1758 was Deputy Agent for Indian Affairs at Fort Frederick, Maryland; he acquired lands in Fayette County, Pennsylvania, which were inherited by his son Thomas; m. Sarah HOWARD, dau. of Joshua and Joanna (O'CARROLL) HOWARD of Baltimore County, Maryland, whose will of 1738 names his daughters, Sarah, Mary and Violetta, who had m. Col. LIEUTENANT THOMAS GIST of Fayette County, Pennsylvania; b. in Maryland, 1735; lived temporarily in Kentucky; d. in Fayette County, 1786–1787. As a boy he was taken prisoner by the Indians and lived with them until fifteen or sixteen years of age, in the wilds, and possibly was taken into Canada. He served from Virginia in the Colonial Wars, as Lieutenant about 1762, and in the Revolutionary War for three years as a Private in Captain REED's Company, 10th Regiment, Virginia Continental Line, for which he received a bounty warrant for land within the present state of Kentucky. He was, like his father, a frontiersman and scout, and was with his father and brother, Gen. Nathaniel GIST at the Battle of BRADDOCK's Defeat, 9th July, 1755. He gave a most interesting affidavit to be found in the Court Records of Yohogannia County, Virginia, under date of April, 1780, in which he proved to the satisfaction of the court that he served as a Cadet in the year 1757, as an Ensign in 1758 and as a Lieutenant in 1760 in a regiment raised in Virginia service and employed in the last war; that he continued therein until regularly discharged. In 1762 he again served as Lieutenant in another regiment raised and employed in similar service and continued therein until regularly discharged: that he never received any satisfaction or advantage under the King's proclamation of 1763, except a warrant from Lord DUNMORE for two thousand acres of land; and that he has ever continued an inhabitant of this State (i.e., Virginia); he later removed to Pennsylvania); in Fayette County, Pennsylvania, he acquired land originally granted to his father; m. Elizabeth (surname not given).

Lineage

Tradition says the American founder of this family is descended from Sir Richard Hoghton, Bart., of Houghton Tower, Lancashire, England. His family fought for the King although Ralph Houghton of Lancashire is said to have fought against the King. The HOGHTONS of Hoghton Tower are descendants of Roger DE BUSLI, one of the followers of William the Conqueror, A.D. 1066. The earliest ancestors of John the emigrant, known in the genealogy and his descent through three generations is: John HOUGHTON, I, buried at Eaton Bray, 23d April, 1618, no further record. John HOUGHTON, II, christened May, 1593, m. Damaris BUCKMASTER and had ten children. He was a passenger on the Abigail, 1635, where his age was entered by mistake as four years, an error probably through carelessness. He was in 1629 and 1630 Warden of St. Mary's Church, Eaton Bray. During his wardenship the tower of this ancient church was repaired. This church was built in the beginning of the twelfth century. In the year 1635 the ship Abigail 300 tons, Capt. Sir David KIRK's flagship, sailed from London with many families and servants because of the religious troubles disturbing old England. Many of those who came out were Puritans and others had Puritanical leanings, and among those who sailed from London in the Abigail was John HOUGHTON, II, the progenitor of Capt. Timothy HOUGHTON. This John was christened 19th May, 1593, in St. Mary's Church at Eaton Bray, Bedfordshire, where his father, John HOUGHTON, I, was buried 28th April, 1618. The following is a transcription of the passenger list 28th June, 1635, passengers from London to New England in the ship Abigail, HACKWELL, Master, John HOUGHTON, III, four years old, certificate of his conformity from Justice of the Peace and Minister of Eaton Bray, in county of Bedford, England. This gentleman did not remain in New England but returned to England, where he had left his family, after the trouble had subsided. 24th December, 1624, John HOUGHTON, III, son of John II, who sailed in the Abigail was born. He came to New England about the year 1647 with his wife, Beatrix and his cousin Ralph HOUGHTON, with his wife Jane STOWE. The inscription on his tombstone in the old Granary Burying Ground, shows that John, III, died on the old Common 29th April, 1684, aged sixty years. An incidental proof of John HOUGHTON's connection with the Houghtons of Lancashire, England, is found in the fact that one of his descendants in this country has now a sword said to have been brought from England by John, as the eldest son and heir. It has the rose and thistle on it, previously mentioned as belonging to the family coat of arms granted by King James I in 1612, by writ under the privy seal, to Sir Roger as an augmentation to his coat of arms. This sword is now in the possession of one of his descendants in Washington, D. C. xii. Hon. Patrick Ogilby of Oroville, Butte County, California, b. 13th April, 1822; d. 14th March, 1899, at Oroville, Lawyer; received his education in the State of Virginia until sixteen years of age; in 1838 removing to Greensburg, Kentucky, and while in that State his early schooling was supplemented by a thorough legal course in the University of Louisville, from which he graduated in 1848. The year previous to graduation he was admitted to practice law and as soon as he was graduated entered at once upon a professional career in Green County, Kentucky, but the following spring a spirit of adventure and ambition led him to join with others in a trip to the El Dorado of the West. After an eventful overland journey Sacramento was reached in October, 1849, and a little more than a month later at Dry Creek the first search for gold was commenced. After mining in Nevada, Plumas and Butte Counties with varied success it was finally concluded that this life was not the most suitable for him, and consequently, in July, 1854, he was found in Plumas County settled down to the practice of the law, where he remained (a resident of Quincy, the county seat) for nine years, or until 1863. After that, until, July, 1869 he was occupied in following the legal profession at Virginia City, Nevada, at which time he removed to Oroville and on the 12th of the month opened his law office here. In 1861 while in Plumas County he was elected District Attorney, and held the office until his removal to Nevada. In 1872 he was chosen to a like position in Butte County, where he served for two years. In 1878 upon the death of Judge SEXTON, he was appointed District Judge with jurisdiction in Tehama and Butte Counties, and when the new constitution was adopted he was elected to the position of Judge of the Superior Court of the County, where he discharged his official duties for five years, declining a re-nomination. In fall of 1888 at the general election held to elect a successor to Judge Leon D. FREER, deceased, he was the choice of the Democratic party to fill the unexpired term, and was elected to the position. Barret

The earliest information which we have, as yet been able to obtain of this particular family is that Robert BARRET "a dauntless sailor in the English Navy" is mentioned as being a Master of one of the ships of the fleet which Admiral Sir John HAWKINS commanded, and which sailed from Plymouth on the 2d October, 1567. This particular fleet consisted of six ships, namely, The Jesus, Admiral HAWKIN's flagship, Robert BARRET, Master; The Mignon, Capt. Thomas HAMPTON, John GARNETT, Master; The William and John, Capt. Thomas BOLTON, James POUNCE; Master; The Judith, Capt. (afterwards Sir) Francis DRAKE; The Angel and The Swallow; he was evidently in the "West India Trade" and must have amassed more or less a fortune; m. Penelope GILBERT.

WILLIAM BARRET, b. in Wales, 22d June, 1566; d. 1642. The greatest part of his life was spent in London, but it appears that he spent a portion of it at least in America and was practically the first of the BARRETS in this county. Was a member of the London Company, one of the companies organized for the purpose of colonizing the "New World," under the auspices of which that part of America now known as Virginia was settled. This is the same company that sent out expeditions under the leadership of Lord DELAWARE, Capt. John SMITH, of Pocohontas fame. William BARRET appears to have had an eloquent and graphic pen, and that he, in the "True Declaration" painted the Bermuda Isle, with the wrecks there, the glories of the new Atlantas, the smooth glossy bosom of the magnificent Chesapeake, the verdure of the broad and beautiful James, woods full of song, gives a glowing picture of the future and promise of aggrandizement, and the dire shame of the abandonment of the enterprise, gives the causes of the previous failures and his active genius and auspicious patronage did ably aid, in money, the planting of the first vital germ of the civilization and permanent settlement in the New World. He m. Dorothea PAYNE.

WILLIAM MOORE ISAAC, Attorney-at-Law, was Deputy Register of Wills of Howard County, Maryland; Deputy Register of Wills, Baltimore County; Deputy Clerk and Clerk Circuit Court of Baltimore County; Clerk United States Treasury Department; Secretary and Treasurer Maryland Title Insurance and Trust Company; Grand Secretary of Grand Lodge of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons; Past Grand Master of Independent Order of Odd Fellows; Vestryman of Trinity Church, Towson; President of Baltimore County School Commissioners.

Lineage

The original progenitor in Maryland, of this line of the ISAAC family, is believed to have been Joseph ISACKE, who came to Maryland during the latter part of the seventeenth century. There is a tradition in this branch of the family that the first settlers of the name, to come to this State, were two brothers, who came from England as officers of the English Government, in charge of certain political prisoners, among whom was the founder of the BOWIE family in Maryland. The tradition, so far as it relates to the BOWIE family, is also alluded to by the author of "The Bowie Family and Their Kindred."

JOSEPH ISACKE is believed to have been the brother of Edward ISACKE, whose will, dated 3d December, 1693 (Wills, Record No. 2, folio 322, Land office, Annapolis), mentioned his wife, Jane, and his son, Sutton. The brother referred to in Edward ISACKE's will is not named, but there is no doubt that he was the Joseph ISACKE who d. in 1689 in Calvert County. Joseph ISACKE lived and d. in that part of Calvert County which, about 1705, became Queen Anne's Parish, in Prince George's County. Joseph ISACKE's name first appears upon the Maryland Records in his will bearing date 29th December, 1688, and probated 23d February, 1689 (Land Office, Wills, 6, folio, 53, and Test. Prob. 14, folio, 131). In his will, Joseph ISACKE mentioned his wife, Margaret, his sons, Richard and Joseph, his daughters, Elizabeth and Rebecca, and his sons-in-law (that is to say, his stepsons), Joseph BROWN and James CLIFFORD, all children minors. It is evident from this will that Margaret, the wife of Joseph ISACKE, had been married before she became the wife of Joseph, first to one BROWN, and secondly to a certain CLIFFORD. Her maiden name is unknown.

William Beals Kendall was educated at Noble's School in Boston and at Lancy, Switzerland; he went to New York in December, 1880, and organized the firm of Hatch and Kendall, bankers and brokers, with which he remained for eleven years; on 19th May, 1890, he was admitted to membership in the New York Stock Exchange and, the year following, organized the firm of Kendall and Whitlock, of which he was the senior partner for twenty-two years; he has travelled much in Europe and as a boy, was in Paris during the entire siege of 1870; for several years he has been a member of the Third Panel, Sheriff's Jury.

Lineage

The Kendall family, which is very old in England, derives its name from the town of Kendall on the Kent River in Westmoreland County; among the best known of its early representatives was John Kendall, Sheriff of Nottingham, who was killed at the Battle of Bosworth 1485, while fighting in the army of Richard III. Branches of the family are found in many parts of England and America.

John Kendall, ancestor of the New England family, was living in Cambridgeshire, England, in 1646, and d. there in 1660.

Francis Kendall, b. in England, circa 1620; came to America and was living at Charlestown, Massachusetts, in 1640; he emigrated under the name of Miles in order, it is said, to conceal his intentions from his family. At Charlestown he signed the town orders for the new town of Woburn and was one of its first and most prominent inhabitants, serving for eighteen years on the Board of Selectmen and on various town Committees. He owned and operated a mill on one of the streams at Woburn and is described by Sewell, as "a gentleman of great respectability and influence in the place of his residence." In a strict Puritan community, he had the courage to differ slightly in faith from the majority for which he was duly fined. He m. 24th December, 1644; Mary, dau. of Sergt. Charles Kingsbury Miller was educated at Crean's private school and the public schools of Chicago; was engaged in the newspaper advertising business as Charles K. Miller and Company, till 1890 when he retired; in 1894 he began active patriotic work to secure legislation to protect the national flag from desecration. To this end, for a number of years he wrote and published flag literature, which was extensively circulated throughout the United States to aid the efforts of patriotic societies and organizations in securing flag legislation. While engaged in this patriotic work Charles Kingsbury Miller received autograph letters from five Presidents of the United States approving the movement. Forty states have now enacted flag laws. Author: "Excerpts from an Egyptian Manuscript," under nom de plume K. Esryer. Life Member Society Colonial Wars, Sons of the American Revolution, Holland Society of Chicago, Huguenot Society of America, New York; American Geographical Society, New York; National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.; Union League and Press Clubs of Chicago.

Lineage (Mould)

This surname appears in Colonial documents spelled variously MOUL, MAUL, MOUWL and MOYL. In the original Dutch MOUL signifies "mouth." For a century and a half the name has been spelled MOULD. According to the records of the Holland Society, Christoffel MOUL is the progenitor of the MOULD family in America. He was a son of Johannes MOUL of Leyden, Holland. That the family was of distinguished station is evidenced by the family crest which is thus described by FAIRBAIRN, "demi-lion rampant, gardant, or." Christoffel MOUL sailed for America on the ship Friendship, commanded by Captain HEYDT, which reached Esopus (now Kingston, New York), in 1710. Here he lived until 1732. In 1715 he enlisted under Captain WITTAKER in Col. John RUTSEN's Regiment and was frequently called upon to defend life and property from the incursions of the Indians. In 1732 Christoffel MOUL removed to that part of Wallkill precinct now embraced in the town of Montgomery, Orange County, New York, where the family have resided for many generations. He became an Elder of the First Dutch Reformed Church of Montgomery in 1736. He served in Capt. John BYARD's Company of Militia, enlisting in 1738; m. Anna Juliana SERVIN, SEVRING, SERGIN or ZARINS as variously spelt.

Lineage

The founder of this branch of the American family was Isaac ROACH, I; b. in Scotland circa 1710; he was sailing master of a British fleet sent from England in 1740 to determine the boundary line between Delaware and Maryland; he settled at Rehoboth, Delaware, in the same year; m. in England circa 1730.

ISSUE

1. ISAAC, b. 1748, in Rehoboth, Delaware, of whom below.

ISAAC ROACH, II, b. 1748, at Rehoboth, Delaware, but shortly after removed to Philadelphia where he resided in the old district of Southwark until his death in August, 1818; he was Treasurer of the Society for the Relief of Distressed and Decayed Pilots; he held a Captain's commission in the Colonial Navy under the Navy Board and Pennsylvania Committee of Safety for the Defense of the Delaware River and Bay from 23d October, 1775, and remained in the service until 23d August, 1784; he commanded the armed boats Delaware, Congress, Wirt, Chatham, Franklin and Hancock. His record is referred to in "Journal of Isaac ROACH," printed in Pennsylvania Historical Society Magazine in 1893, page 129, and his commissions were held successively under the proprietary of Pennsylvania from Benjamin FRANKLIN, George WASHINGTON, John ADAMS, JEFFERSON and MADISON, and, with the exception of a few years, he remained in Government Service until his death. His services are mentioned in the Minutes of the Naval Board on pages 128, 153, 264, 267, 275, 294, 305, 756 and 761, Volume 1, in Library of Historical Society of Pennsylvania and other Libraries. He filled the grade of First and Second Lieutenant of various armed boats before promotion to the Captaincy and took part in the defense of Fort Mifflin on the Delaware. He was an officer on board the Charming Sally, a brig assisting the Hyder Ali in the capture of the British ship General Monk in Delaware Bay and was badly wounded in that engagement. The Charming Sally was captured by the British and recaptured by Captain ROACH. Captain ROACH was one of a Committee in 1779 formed to dispense Provisions during the scarcity of food during and following the War. He was also one of a Committee afterwards termed the "Patriotic Society" which was formed after the British occupancy of Philadelphia to denounce Toryism and British sympathizers, a part of which sympathy was manifested by the holding of the fête known as the "Meschianza" for the entertainment of British officers then in Philadelphia. Captain ROACH commanded the pilot boat Federal Pilots during the Land and Water Pageant at Philadelphia 4th July, 1788. He m. 25th January, 1775, at St. Paul's Church on South Third Street, Philadelphia, Martha SCANLAN, dau. of William SCANLAN of Dublin, Ireland; he d. in 1818 and was buried at St. Peter's, Third and Pine Streets, Philadelphia.

Major STOCKTON is an ardent advocate of adequate preparedness. Since 1907, he has worked for absolute Federal control of the National Guard. In December, 1915, before the officers of his regiment (then 2d New Jersey Infantry) and prominent guests, he made a speech attacking the militia system and the political appointments of high offices. Though aimed at inefficiency in general, this was construed as an attack on Brigadier-General SADLER, the Adjutant-General of New Jersey. Major (then Captain) STOCKTON was asked to resign but refused, stating that he could be removed only by sentence of a court martial. No court was ordered, and friends claimed that this indicated that Major STOCKTON's position is correct. He received high praise for his attitude from the foremost military authorities and high est officers in the country, it being an article on the subject which won for him the Gold Medal of the Military Service Institution for the second time. Major STOCKTON believes that the citizen soldiery, be it called National Guard or any other name will never be efficient until it is controlled entirely by the United States, rather than State Governments. He has prepared plans showing how this may be accomplished practically and legally. In 1916 Major STOCKTON made a complete investigation of the mobilization and concentration of the Army and National Guard on the Mexican border, being sent by the Mayor's Committee on National Defense of New York City. He covered the entire border in the course of his inspection of the troops. At the time of going to press, July 12th, 1917, Major Stockton was in active service in the war with Germany.

HON. ROBERT FIELD STOCKTON, A.M., "The Commodore," of Princeton, New Jersey; b. there 20th August, 1795; d. there 7th October, 1866 (see "Life of Commodore STOCKTON," published by Derby and Jackson, New York, 1856); Midshipman, United States Navy, 18th September, 1811; served on Frigate President, under Commodore ROGERS; active service in the War of 1812; participated in the defense of Baltimore, June, 1814, being promoted for his gallantry; on 9th September, 1814, gained the name of "Fighting Bob," and said to be the original man with that nickname; served as Aide to the Secretary of the Navy. During War of the Barbary Powers, he served first as Junior Lieutenant on the Guerrier, Commodore DECATUR's flagship and subsequently as First Lieutenant on the schooner Spitfire, taking part in the capture of the Algerian frigate Mishoun, 17th June, 1815, and of the brig, Estecio a few days following. In 1816, he again cruised in the Mediterreanean as Seventh Lieutenant on the Washington, Commodore CHAUNCEY'S Squadron; was promoted Second Lieutenant and subsequently First Lieutenant of the Erie, returning to the United States in 1812; was transferred soon after to the command of the schooner Alligston and under the auspices of the American Colonization Society, visited the west coast of Africa where, in 1822, he founded a Colony at Mesurado, which became in 1847 the Republic of Liberia. He subsequently captured the Portuguese Letter of Marque Marrianna Flora and the French slaver Jeune Eugenie. This latter case was taken to Court and Captain STOCKTON, defended by Daniel WEBSTER, won the case. Thus he was the first to establish the right of a warship to capture slave vessels under a foreign flag. Was ordered to the West Indies to check the depredations of the pirates and surveyed the Southern Coasts, 1823–1824; during which time he married. Obtained leave of absence from 1826–1838 and made his home in Princeton, New Jersey, where he established a newspaper to which he contributed editorials, stating that his support of President ADAMS would be based upon the latter's "good behavior in office," an independent attitude which he continued to maintain throughout his career. Was a delegate to the Democratic State Convention, 1826; was the Founder and first President of the New Jersey Colonization Society and the chief promoter of the Delaware and Raritan Canal, visiting Europe to obtain a loan for the completion; he served as executive officer of the flagship Ohio, Mediterranean Squadron, Commodore Isaac HULL, 8th December, 1838–1839, bearing official dispatches to Great Britain where he investigated the improvements in naval architecture; was promoted Port Captain, 1839. Supported Gen. William Henry HARRISON for the Presidency, 1840, and declined the portfolio of the Navy offered by President TYLER, 1841. He was one of the first commanders to apply steam to naval purposes; building in 1842–1844, the famous sloop of war Princeton of which he was placed in command. On the trial down the Potomac River, 28th February, 1844, through the accidental explosion of one of the guns, opposite Mount Vernon, Able P. UPSHUR, Secretary of State, Thomas W. GILMER, Secretary of the Navy and David GARDINER, father-in-law of President TYLER were killed as well as several of the crew, while Captain STOCKTON, and others were severely injured. A court of inquiry showed that this gun was fired at the order of the Secretary of the Navy, contrary to Captain STOCKTON'S desires. Captain STOCKTON was completely acquitted of all blame. Later on in the same year, he was appointed to carry the annexation resolutions to the Government of Texas, and sailed in the Princeton. Was promoted Commander-in-Chief of the Pacific Squadron, October, 1845, and sailed in the frigate Conyers with Mr. TEN EYCK, commissioner, from Norfolk, Virginia, around Cape Horn to the Sandwich Island and finally to Monterey, California, of which place Commodore John D. SLOAT, U. S. N., had taken possession of, 7th July, 1846. Commodore STOCKTON took command by proclamation of the entire American force on the Pacific Coast and in coöperation with Col. John C. FREMONT, captured Los Angeles, 13th August, 1846; assumed office as the first American Governor of California (military), appointing Colonel FRE-

MONT, Commander of the military forces; recaptured San Diego, San Gabriel and Le Mesa; Maj.-Gen. S. W. KEARNEY was later second in command. Commodore STOCKTON returned to San Diego 17th January, 1847, after having successfully negotiated with Mexico for the ceding of California to the United States, which act was formally ratified by the treaty of 2d February, 1848. Upon his return to New Jersey, he received the thanks of the State Legislature and was tendered a reception. He resigned from the Navy, 28th May, 1850. Was elected to the United States Senate from New Jersey to the Thirty-second Congress for the full term, 1851–1857, but resigned 20th January, 1853; was President of the Delaware and Raritan Canal, 1853–1866; was a Delegate to the Peace Congress at Washington, D. C., 13th February, 1861; received the honorary degree of A.M. from the College of New Jersey, 1851; the city of Stockton, California, the torpedo boat and the destroyer Stockton, were named in the Commodore's honor; a memorial window in memory of Commodore STOCKTON and of Admirals SLOAT and FARRAGUT was placed in St. Peter's Chapel, Mare Island Navy Yard, California, in 1902; m. 1823, Harriet Maria POTTER, who d. 1862, dau. of John POTTER of Charleston, South Carolina.

Trippe

CHARLES WHITE TRIPPE of New York City; b. at New York City, 8th June, 1872; m. 27th November, 1895, Lucy Adeline Terry, b. 29th October, 1872, dau. of Juan T. Terry.

ISSUE

I. Charles White, Jr., b. 30th August, 1896: d. 23rd August, 1899.
II. Juan Terry, b. 27th June, 1899.
III. Katherine Louise, b. 5th September, 1900.

Charles White Trippe was educated at Columbia University in the Class of 1894, and upon leaving College immediately associated himself with the Engineering Corps at the Chicago Worlds Fair of 1892. At the completion of this he became a Sanitary Engineering Expert of the New York City Board of Health. In 1901 he became a member of the Banking House of Schuyler, Chadwick and Stout and in 1906 formed the Banking House of Trippe and Company, and joined the New York Stock Exchange, becoming the board member of his firm.

Lineage

The Trippes lived in Kent County, England, as far back as the Norman Conquest. The name is found in the "Doomsday Book" in the titles of lands, A.D. 1234. Nicholas Trippe gave Lamplands, County Kent, to Elham Church. The first record we have of this family in Maryland is in 1663 when Lieutenant Henry, the immigrant and our direct ancestor, b. Canterbury, England, 1632; d. in Dorchester County, Maryland, March, 1698, who had fought in Flanders under the Prince of Orange, afterwards William III of England, brought with him to the Province of Maryland, three of his troopers and by Royal Grant took up land in Dorchester County; Representative in Maryland Assembly, 1671–1675, 1661–1682, 1692–1693; one of the Committee of Twenty for regulating affairs in Maryland, 1690; Justice and County Commissioner, 1669–1681, 1685–1694; Captain of Foot, 1676; Major of Horse, 1689; Thomas Trippe his brother is mentioned by James, Duke of York, afterwards James II, in his Autobiography Nairn papers as aiding him to escape from St. James Palace after the beheading of Charles I. Col. Henry Trippe m. (firstly) in 1665 Francis Brooke, widow of Michael Brooke of St. Leonard's Creek, Calvert County, Maryland; m. (secondly) Lady Elizabeth Trippe who survived him and by whom he had four sons and one daughter. He settled in Maryland in 1663, and on 9th November, 1670, he bought of John Edmondson a tract of land called Sark on the south side of Choptank River near its mouth originally patented to Francis Armstrong, added this land to what had been given by Royal Grant in 1663 and it became the family seat in Dorchester County, and so remained until recently, known as Todds Point.

Right Reverend Henry Benjamin Whipple, Bishop of Minnesota; b. 15th February, 1822, at Adams, New York; d. 16th September, 1901, at Faribault, Minnesota; was educated in private schools in the State of New York. At the age of ten years was placed in Professor's Avery's private school in Clinton, New York, and next in School under Rev. Dr. Boyd and Dr. Covert. Was Division Inspector with rank of Colonel on Staff of Maj.-Gen. John Gorse, New York State Militia. Received his theological training under Rev. Dr. W. D. Wilson later of Cornell University. 26th August, 1849, was ordained Deacon by Bishop DeLancey in Trinity Church, Geneva, New York. The following February ordained Priest in Christ Church, Sackett's Harbor, and immediately thereafter called to Zion Church, Rome, New York. In 1856 was called to establish the first Protestant Episcopal Church in Chicago, Illinois. Among his parishoners were Generals Burnside and McClellan. Erected the Church of the Holy Communion, which was destroyed at the time of the great Chicago fire, 13th October, 1859; was consecrated first Bishop of Minnesota at St. James Church, Richmond, Virginia, at the session of the General Convention. It was through his unselfish efforts that the Diocese of the State of Maryland has the finest diocesan library in the United States. He was loyal and fearless in protecting the rights of the Indians in Minnesota, against unlawful aggressions on the part of unscrupulous whites. He stood preëminently as the most rational, just and enlightened man who had any dealing with Indian affairs and for his sincerity and directness the Indians gave him the name of "Straight Tongue." He gave clear warning of the Indian massacre that occurred in 1862. Was appointed on many commissions by different Presidents of the United States. In 1871 an English Bishopric was offered him by the Archbishop of Canterbury and the Bishop of Winchester and by the King and Synod of the Sandwich Islands. In 1873 he was elected one of the Trustees of the great Peabody Fund for educational work in the South. In 1888 by request of the Archbishop of Canterbury, Bishop Whipple preached the opening sermon of the Lambeth Conference at Lambeth Palace, London. From the Universities of Oxford, Cambridge and Durham he received the honorary degrees of D.D. and LL.D., and D.D. from Hobart College. On 3d June, 1897, by a request of the preceding year, he preached in Salisbury Cathedral at the great service in commemoration of the thirteen hundredth anniversary of the baptism of King Ethelbert, the first Christian Saxon king, with a congregation of seven thousand persons, a procession of seven hundred bishops and vested clergy and fourteen hundred choristers. The same year he preached one of the special sermons before Oxford and the "Ramsden Sermon" before Cambridge, which, by request of the S. P. G., was published for circulation. He also preached the opening sermon after the restoration of the wonderful old Cathedral Church of St. Saviour's, London, vibrant with history, and in the Ladye Chapel, in which Bishop GARDNER held court and condemned to be burned at the stake the Bishop of St. David's, Bishop FARRAR of Worcester, John ROGERS and five priests. It was said by many of the one hundred and fifty bishops present at this service that Bishop WHIPPLE seemed to have reached the zenith of impassioned out pouring of spiritual truths, striking the keynote of everything most needed in the Christianization of the world. In August, 1897, Bishop Whipple preached the Tennyson memorial sermon in the Poet's parish church at Freshwater, Isle of Wight, at the time of the unveiling, by the Archbishop of Canterbury and the Dean of Westminster, of the memorial erected by the poet's friends in America and England—the Iona cross, which stands a beacon for sailors on the summit of the downs. He was Chaplain General of the Society of Colonial Wars and Sons of the American Revolution; m. (firstly) 5th October, 1842, Cornelia WRIGHT, b. 10th November, 1816, d. 16th July, 1890, dau. of Benjamin and Sarah (WARD) WRIGHT of the families of PELL and WARD of New York; m. (secondly) 22d October, 1896, Evangeline (MARRS) SIMPSON only dau. of Francis and Jane (VAN POELIEN) MARRS of Massachusetts, and widow of Michael SIMPSON.

Societies.—Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, 1885–1896.

Lineage

The White family is a very old one, and the name appears among the people of many countries. The branch of which the subject of this memoir is a member first comes to our attention in picturesque old Yorkshire, England, in the thirteenth century. There the family lived in the shadow of the grand York Cathedral. and in it they worshipped more than five hundred years ago. The beautiful Fountains Abbey was a joy to them, as its ruins are to the Whites today.

Willelmi Whitte (White) frater Nicholas de Ebor in Kirkby's Inquest for Yorkshire, taken 5 Edward I, 1277, as of Hebden, Staincliffe, Wapentake. It is not known if he was any relation to Robertus White who is mentioned in the Knight's Fees or Yorkshire, 31st Edward I., 1303, as of Aghton, Hartill Wapentake, but, if as has been asserted, and is almost certain, that the Inquest, which Adams Kirkby, Treasure, held concerning the tenures in capite, was made in 35 instead of 5 Edward I, or in 1306, it is just possible that these two Whites, who held land in Yorkshire by tenure in capite about the same time, and very close to each other, were related in some way. This Kirkby's Inquest or Quest is said to be in the nature of Domeday, and is of great importance as showing the landed proprietors at the time. When the lands of the conquered English were divided amongst the vassals of the Norman invaders, the obligation was imposed upon them of supplying the crown with a certain number of Knights, specified in the infeoffment. These knights had allotments of land from the King's immediate tenants, and held of their several lords by homage, fealty, and so forth. Their lands were called Fees, and composed the barony of the king's vassals. Aghton is, of course, the present Egton in North Riding. The name appeared next in Yorkshire with Willemus White, b. 1339, who was made a freeman, 12 Edward III, 1339, when he is described as of Killum, the present Kilham, in East Riding, Yorkshire. What relationship there existed between him and the two Whites previously mentioned is not known, inasmuch as the other two were designated as White in capital letters, and consequently, indicating a surname and William was not so designated but by being called "le White" evidently was so called on account of a light complexion, or for some similar reason, and hence might be designated as the progenitor of his branch, he was not related to the two other Whites, as there surely was no reason whatever why he, if a descendant, should be called "le White," instead of White, as the two other, Robertus and Willelmi, of earlier date. (List of Freemen of York, 12 Edward III.) The above datum as referring to Willemus le White is useful, as proving his residence in the city of Kilham at this period; it also shows that he was desirous to trade within the jurisdiction of the city or borough, for which purpose he was compelled to obtain the freedom of the city. This freedom could be obtained in four ways: by servitude, i.e., apprenticeship to a freeman; by patrimony; i.e., being the child of a freeman born after the parent's admission to his freedom, or by purchase or gift of the city. That the freemanship was obtained, in this case, neither by servitude nor patrimony, in which case the name of the parent of the child would appear, would seem to prove that Willemus "LE WHITE" had purchased or received the freedomship as a gift by the city or borough, which would indicate that he was one of the earliest settlers there. He probably came from Lincolnshire, Parish of Thoresby, after having crossed the river Humber, and drifted north, as his son Petrus WHITE "rendered homage to the Archbishop of York for land held in York of the see." "Item eisdem die et anno (May 31st, 1369). Petrus WHYT fecit eidem patri consimile hom. pro terris quas tenet in Camp de Caldon." He was referred to as a brother of ADAM WHITE "a walker" who became freeman of York in 1365, "son of Willemus WHITE and brother of Petrus of Thoresby Parish. He had two sons:

i. Ricardus, who was "a perpetus Vicarius . . . de Blida" and made his will which was probated 10th July, 1393.
ii. JOHANNIS, of whom later.

JOHANNIS WHITE was a slaymaker, "became freeman in 1390," son of Adam WHITE, freeman in 38 Edward III, "when his name is spelled WHYT," and had son called Johannis WHIT, "Jr.," who was also a slaymaker.

i. JOHANNIS, JR., IV, of whom later.
ii. Roberto, who was of Tykill, the present Tikill, and is mentioned in the will of Johannis Shakespere DE DONCASTER as executor, proved 29th November, 1433.

JOHANNIS WHITE, JR., a "slaymaker" in 1394, when he became a freeman; he is mentioned in the will of William MERING of Newark, as executor, 1449.

ISSUE

i. WILLIAM, of whom later.
ii. Nicholas, a boucher; Freeman in 1451; m. and left descendants.
iii. John, who had son Georgius, who left descendants.
iv. Bartholomew, who had a Dispensation from the Archbishop of York as "scutifer" to m. Alice, dau. of Thomas SHOLDAM, of Martham, "scutifer;" related in third degree; citing dispensation of Nicholas V, dated 5th August, 1449.

WILLIAM WHITE, who, on his admission as freeman, 30 Henry VI (1451), is called "fil Johannis WHITE slaymaker;" he studied first for the priesthood, but soon gave that up and became a merchant in York, and a man of great prominence; a Chamberlain in 1408; Sheriff in 1481–1482; Member of Parliament in 1491, and in 1504; was Lord Mayor in 1496; he died in February, 1504–1505, and in his testament and will, which was proved 27th February, that year, "to be beried in the qwere of Saynt John Bapte in my Parish Kyrk . . . . for my funerall expenses and my eythen day 20 . . . . mentions wife Agnes, and sons Robert and William. He is mentioned in the will of Robert JOHNSON, Alderman of York, dated 20th January, 1496, proved 14th March, 1497–1498, "William WHYTE, alderman, my huge rynge of golde whiche that John KEISTER made in the year that I was Maire." The wife, Agnes BARKER, mentioned in William WHITE's will, was his second wife, and he married her the year before he died, receiving from the Archbishop of York a license to the Curate of St. Michael's Ousebridge, York, to marry "William WHITE, Parish of St. John, Merchant, and Agnes BARKER, Parish of St. Michael. Banns once." He had no children with this wife, and the name of the first wife is not known.

ISSUE BY FIRST MARRIAGE

I. William, settled in St. Michael in Huggin Lane; m. Alice WOOD, of St. Michael ad Baldum, obtaining a license 22d January, 1520.
II. ROBERT, of whom later.

ROBERT WHITE or Robertus WHYTE, Merchant, fil Willelmi WHYTE, Merchant as he is called, when he became freeman 10 Henry VIII (1518). He is mentioned, as Roberto Whyte DE ALNEWYK, in will of Thomas ASKWYK of Alnwyck, 5th August, 1503. John MARSHALL, previously mentioned, made his will 15th December, proved 31st July, 1526–1527, as of York, Merchant, and in this he mentions Robert WHITE's childer, to ichow of his sones xxs., and ichow of his goughtours x s., also referring to Robert WHITE's father William WHITE, sone of John WHITE, Alderman and Grosiour of Yorke. He m. Ketherine WHITE, dau. of Davy WHITE, who received "a smoke" in will of Agnes CONSTABLE of Witherwick, proved 16th November, 1522. She also received "a silver spoone" in will of Kath. HENRISON's will of 13th May, 1541, proved 13th July, 1545, of Kingston upon Hull. In the reference to the "Testaments" I have, to escape repetition, used the word "will" but it should be understood, that until 32 Henry VIII (1540) no man, however rich in lands, had power to make his "will" and leave away a single acre from his heir. His "testament" dealing solely with his money, and other personal property, he could make; at his death, the document was proved, and a certificate or "probate act" was annexed to the parchment transcript of the will. All "testaments" here referred to were registered at York. Robert WHITE and Katherine, his wife, had issue:

I. Alexander, who is mentioned as to receive x s. or the worth of it . . . . in "testament" of Thomas MASON, Alderman of York, proved 9th April, 1529.
II. JOHN, of whom later.
III. Katherine, m. Martin SNOW, and had issue.
IV. Margaret, m. Samuel THOMAS, but had no issue.

JOHN WHITE was a silversmith and moved to London to practice his trade, as appears, when he married, as son of Robert and Katherine his wife, of York, 8th February, 1543–1544, Johanna LYDDEN, now of Parish Whittsam, Diocese of Canterbury, late of Cavood, Yorkshire, dau. of——— LYDDEN and Johanna his wife.

ISSUE BY FIRST MARRIAGE

I. Thomas, b. 28th January, 1636, of whom later.

Thomas White, b. 28th January, 1636, in Midgeham, Berkshire County, England; bapt. 28th August, 1642, in St. Michael's Church, Fewston, Yorkshire, England. He was the only child of Walter and Margaret (Early) White, who were m. 4th April, 1635. He emigrated to New England on the ship Annabel, Martin Harmon, master, 8th May, 1660, from London. The parentage of Thomas White, the date of his departure from England, and in fact anything relating to him before his marriage to Mary Frothingham have been matters of conjecture, until the discovery of the passenger list of the ship Annabel in the British Museum. This paper was probably in the Custom House in Boston until the Revolutionary War, and taken to England at that time by officers of the Crown. "There cannot be the slightest doubt that the Thomas White of St. Michael, Fewston, Yorkshire, b. 1636, the emigrant, Thomas White, on "Annabel" also b. 1636, as he was aged 24 when he emigrated in 1660, and the Thomas White of Charlestown, Massachusetts, who was 80 years old when he d., 30th September, 1716, and consequently, b. also in 1636, were one and the same person, and this so much more so as no data indicate that he ever married or died in England, which would surely have been the case if he remained, while the other members of the family are all accounted for; we do not know of any other Thomas White of the New World who was b. in 1636 than the man of Charlestown; and although every data referring to any one by the name of White has been copied in Great Britain down to 1700, there is no Thomas White, b. in 1636, who is not accounted for, by marriage or death. All this makes it as clear as we possibly can make any data bearing upon the connections between the emigrants and the foreign ancestry, that the three persons, of same name and same age, one of which neither married nor died in England, were the same person; this so much more so as the fact that Thomas White m. a Yorkshire woman, and so comparatively near as Holderness, where many intermarriages took place. All emigration lists from the very first, the Oblata Rolls, which begin I John are in the British Museum, although not indexed. Fewston, Yorkshire, England, had been for many years the family locality. Thomas White spent the first twenty-three years of his life in Midgeham, Berkshire, his mother's home, and in Fewston. In deeds signed by himself and his wife he is designated as "yeoman" a distinction of eminent respectability. Thomas WHITE m. Mary FROTHINGHAM, the youngest child and favored dau. of William FROTHINGHAM. 17th November, 1663, when he was about 27 years of age. Mary FROTHINGHAM was b. 1st April, 1638. William FROTHINGHAM, her father, came from Holderness, Yorkshire, England, in John WINTHROP's first company. Thomas WHITE's name appears in the list of freeman of Charlestown, 23d May, 1666. He was admitted to the Church 22d March, 1668; he was a soldier in King Philip's War, and served in Captain SYLL's Company, 30th November, 1675; he received for service performed one pound, four shillings, nine pence; he was also a member of Capt. John CUTLER's company of Charlestown, 24th July, 1676. Nathaniel FROTHINGHAM, Andrew STIMPSON, Thomas RAND and Peter FROTHINGHAM were members of the same company (see Bodge's "Soldiers in King Philip's War," second edition). Thomas WHITE was a man of affairs and of business ability and sterling integrity, he d. in Charlestown, 30th September, 1716, in his eightieth year, as per the gravestone in the old "Phipps St. burying ground." Administration was taken on his estate 7th January, 1717.

CHARLES SEYMOUR WHITMAN, b. 28th August, 1868, at Sprague, Connecticut; m. 22d December, 1908, at New York City, Olive Hitchcock, dau. of Oliver Nelson and Josephine (Lloyd) Hitchcock.

ISSUE

I. Olive, b. 28th October, 1910, New York City.
II. Charles Seymour, Jr., b. 11th March, 1915, at Albany, New York.

Charles Seymour Whitman, A.B., Amherset College, 1890; A.M., Williams College, 1904; LL.B., New York University, 1894; LL.D., from Amherst and from New York University 1913; LL.D., Williams, 1916, engaged in the practice of Law after graduation; was assistant corporation counsel, New York City, 1901–1903; President of the City Magistrates' Court, New York City, 1904–1907, and Judge of the Court of General Sessions by appointing of Governor Hughes, 1907; District Attorney New York County from 1st January, 1910 to 1914; elected 3d November, 1914, Governor of the State of New York; reëlected 7th November, 1916. Governor Whitman comes of a long line of distinguished ancestors, among whom are three Colonial Governors, namely, Governor John Haynes of Massachusetts and Connecticut, Governor George Wyllys of Connecticut, and Governor John Webster of Connecticut. He descends also from the well-known Bulkeley family of Connecticut and from the Seymours who fought so well first for the Colonies and later for the States. Those of his ancestors who were not soldiers, were either prominent men of letters or members of the governing bodies in town or colony, wealthy landowners or ministers.

Lineage

John Whitman, the emigrant ancestor of nearly all of the Whitman name in America, was one of the earliest settlers of Weymouth, Massachusetts. He came probably from Holt, Norfolk, England, though the family name appears also in Chesham, County Bucks. He was made a Freeman of Weymouth in December 1638, and became Deacon of the Church there on 13th March, 1638–1639; he was a town officer in 1643, and in 1646, was commissioned one of three to "end small causes;" from 14th May, 1645, till the 16th March, 1680, he was Ensign of the Military Company in Weymouth; on 19th March, 1648, he sold land in Braintree, and acknowledged this sale 26th November, 1656; his will was dated 9th March, 1685, and proved 19th March, 1692–1693; in it he makes bequests to his sons, John, Abijah, Zechariah; daughters Sarah Joanes, Mary Pratt, Judah, wife of Philip King, Elizabeth Green; grandchildren, Joseph and Elizabeth Green and the children of deceased daughter Hannah French; he d. 13th November, 1692, aged about 90 years; he m. probably Ruth ———.
